

Looking every inch the winner, Kyle Anderson of Acton rides Josey in the Walk-and-Trot class. He came sixth out of 20 entries.

Light horses had an easy time of it Friday night. Five teams competed for prize money.

What's a fair without horses?

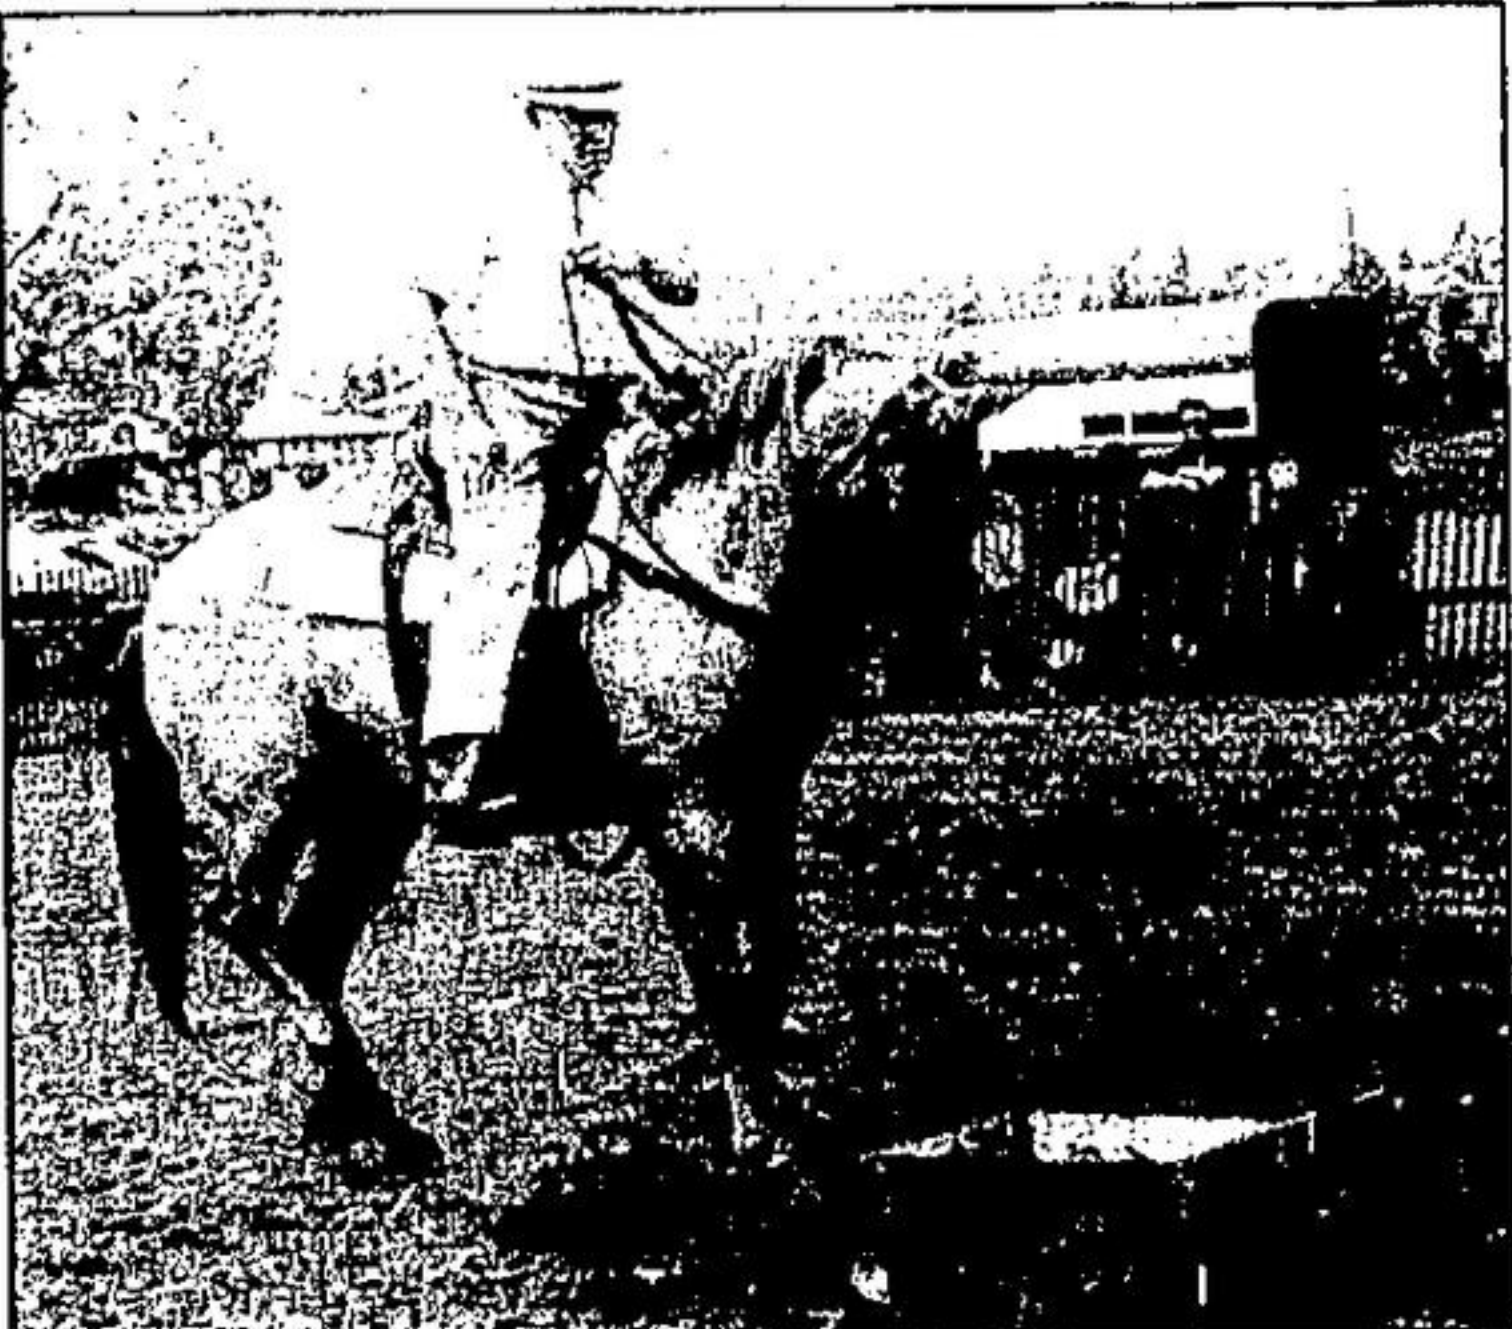

Doreen McLean of Acton was first in the single roadster class driven by a lady.

Light horses, girthing under 165" pulled their weight before the heavy horses got onto the track.

Youngest competitor at the senior English horse show was 10 year old Angela Walton on Kings Image.

Harry Bout has difficulty with his horse during the western trail class. Most horses didn't see any reason why they should step into a little pool of water.

Arabian costumes attracted spectators at Friday's Arabian show, a new attraction for the fair. This entry won second in the Half-Arab Costume class.

Pony jumping and hunting classes attracted many exhibitors from all over Southern Ontario.

Draft horse classes experienced the most entries they'd seen for years. This single Percheron entry belonged to Beattie Brothers of Stayner.

One of the only local exhibitors in the Arabian Horse show was Cindy Johnson of Rockwood shown here after riding Gaylana Flx to third place in the English Pleasure Stake.

Sit on it - when you manage to grab a sack in musical pony sacks you make sure you keep it.

An annual competitor, Matt MacDougal of Erin, showed his fine harness and Hackney teams to win many classes.

Rural Acton resident Bert Robertson displays one of his horses in fine harness.