Heather Britney and Betty Jones put their best feet forward at the St. John's Fall Fever Fashion Show.

Rockwood Digest

A well-attended fashion show was held Thursday at Rockwood Centennial in aid of the St. John's restoration fund. Over 180 people enjoyed 12 models from the congregation showing approximately six outfits each. Clothing, which was described by one of the models as being "ordinary clothes for ordinary people," was designed and provided by Heather Hill Boutique of Belmont.

The event, organized by Joyce Hill, featured dessert as well as fashions, Meringues, ice cream, and peaches ensured that spectators would have to fast for several days in order to get into the fashions.

Area churches were busy this weekend. St. John's Anglican held a Harvest Festival led by Father Ritchie McMurray. The church was filled with appropriate seasonal decorations, harvest offerings and uplifted voices.

When St. John's roof comes off for replacement—any day now—church members will be selling bundles of shingles for kindling. Every little bit helps.

Rockwood Presbyterian Church held its 118th anniversary services led by Rev. Jack Birch of St. Paul's United Church in Milton.

Also celebrating anniversaries, Eden Mills United and Presbyterian Churches traded ministers for services.

In all cases celebration lunches were enjoyed by congregations.

World Communion Sunday will be held next Sunday in most area churches and on Thanksgiving Sunday Rockwood Presbyterian will be dedicating banners quilted by the church ladies.

The first meeting of the "Rock-A-Long Eater Uppers", 4-H Homemaking Club was held at the home of Phyllis Bayne. Miss Bayne, assisted by Mrs. Joan Ramsey, conducted the election of officers. The lesson for the evening was how to cook Chinese Style Pork. 4-H'ers pronounced it delicious so they must have paid attention to their lesson.

Rockwood has lost two well-known residents in the persons of Skeeter and Red, the horses of Marg and Gord Cox.

They passed away within hours of each other Thursday, Skeeter suddenly, and Red after a lengthy illness. Skeeter was in his 23rd year and Red in his 17th. They had lived with the Cox family for 11 years.

All those years they provided a landmark in their summer field across from the Academy. Many people enjoyed the sight of them as they grazed.

Both award winners, the horses had walked away with their share of ribbons in local shows and were long time members of the Rockwood Trail Riders along with their owners.

They will be sorely missed, by residents, as well as their family.

Cubs and Scouts of the area will be making money this Saturday, October 4, by collecting returnable bottles, cash register tapes, clean bushel baskets and wooden four and six quart baskets in good shape.

Organized by the group parent committee, this activity is a chance for the cubs and scouts to fill their depleted coffers. It's also a chance to clean up your basements.

If you are not going to be home Saturday morning between 9.30 and 12 a.m. drop off your contributions beside Saunderson's Bakery. Scout leader Bill Hammond says "I've been very pleased with Rockwood's generosity in the past and I'm looking forward to increased generosity this year."

There are still openings in Rockwood Brownie Packs, the 1st and 2nd. Registration will be open until Tuesday October 14.

All potential brownies are invited to visit the Rockwood Town Hall Tuesday or Thursday evening between 7 and 8.30. For further information call Cathy Justin 858-9066 or Cathy McIntyre at 858-4002.

New assistant scout masters at the 1st Rockwood Scout Troop are Jim Galley and Doug Brunton.

Jim's been a Rockwood resident for six years, he's married and has three children. Also married, Doug Brunton has recently moved into the area.

They join Scoutmaster Bill Hammond, assistant Kevin March and activity leader Darren Kane. There are now 22 scouts with openings for two or three more.

Proceeds from the Eramosa Home and School Association Garage Sale at Eramosa School recently amounted to $600.

There will be a similar garage sale at Rockwood School in the spring. Start saving.

Please call Jennifer Barr 853-2010 or 858-9096 with Rockwood news, personals, and community coming events.

Women will have booth at auction

Plans were finalized for the dinner being served to the Rochester, N.Y. Senior Citizens. The ladies will have a refreshment booth at the auction sale at the home of the late Roy Gordon on November 1.

The ladies of the Rockwood Presbyterian church will be guests for the next meeting on October 28 at the home of Mrs. William MacDonald beginning with a dessert party at 7.30 p.m. Roll call was an article for the fall bazaar.

extended courtesy remarks. Mrs. Ev. Barden was in charge of the program with readings titled "Jesus Heals the Paralyzed Man", "The Ant and the Cricket" and a prayer for Farmers and Ranchers.

The last chapter on Human Rights, "We've Only Just Begun", was read with discussion following.

A contest on "Ages" was won by Mrs. W. Lauby. The meeting closed with hymn and a social hour with refreshments from Maisie Lauby, Mrs. Anna Wilson

Girls cooking in woks

Mrs. Barry Clark and Mrs. George Johnson were in Ottawa for six days, attending the Auxiliary Convention of the Georgetown Legion. They stayed with Mrs. Brian Boyd and also went to see a live musical play "Annie". The convention was at the Skyline, with 1,364 women attending.

The 4-H girls helped prepare a Chinese recipe for stir frying, using a wok, at their first meeting at the home of the leader Linda Earle.

The robins too, are congregating. There were about 30 on our lawn the other day. These are just some of the signs that winter will soon be upon us.

Fred Rinehart's 1940 Chevrolet won him a third prize ribbon in the Antique car class at Aberfoyle Fall Fair.

They discussed the different vegetables and meat to use, the saving of energy, and reading your meter. The main objective of the club is saving energy and using small appliances properly.

Now you see it, now you don't! One minute I looked at the bird bath nestled snugly in the ground. The next minute it couldn't be seen. A flock of sparrows swooped down. A half dozen were splashing

Lawyer checks piggery's smell

The aroma of swine dung has aroused the sensibilities of some Eramosa residents who have asked township council to get its lawyer to do something.

Eramosa council is asking for legal opinion before taking any action concerning Park Pier Pig Farm on County Road 29 on the first concession.

Lawyer David Estrin, representing 11 clients asked council to take some action because the pig operation allegedly
