

Horse of the Year is once again Tassilo, champion Quarter Horse racing stallion owned by Garland Williams of Hillsburgh and trained by Bruce Lawrence of Rockwood. Tassilo was also Horse of the Year in 1978. The seven-year-old stallion outdid himself this year by winning, as well as top honors, six firsts, a second and third place out of eight starts and setting two new track records breaking one of his own. He now holds the record for 350 yds., 400 yds. and 440 yds. and is retired, standing at stud at the Lawrence farm on R.R. 4 Rockwood. Photo by JIM DIROUX

Churchill

Concert on Saturday

by Joanne Turner
Remembrance Day was observed at Churchill Community Church on Sunday in the traditional way. The church orchestra was in attendance; organ, Keith Barbour, cello; Archie Kerr, viola; and John Duenk, trumpet. John sounded the Last Post and Reveille. The choir anthem was "From Thy Throne So High". The sermon by the Rev. Emrys Jenkins was a challenge to perform daring deeds for peace and love of mankind so that the sacrifices of past wars might at last be vindicated.

Three members of the Churchill Church Music Committee, Marie Anderson, Olga Thompson, and Joanne Turner attended an all-day music workshop at St. Paul's United Church, Brampton, a week ago. The seminar brought together 250 choir members and organists from churches all over Southern Ontario for instruction in choral singing. It was conducted by Mrs. Winifred Simm, Winnipeg, the well-known director of the popular Sunday afternoon TV program, Hymn-Sing. In the evening the results of the day's hard work were demonstrated in a concert that was open to the public.

The Social Committee of Churchill Community Church is presenting a variety concert on Saturday November 15, at 8 p.m. at the church. Coffee will be served after the concert. All are welcome. We are sorry to hear that Mr. Jack Denny is in St. Joseph's hospital with

by Mrs. R. McLean
Mr. Finley's topic was "Test Your Tolerance." The world has become a global village. Moses was the top man, who dealt directly with God. 70 elders were taken out of the 10 camp, to the tabernacle. A cloud (the Lord) descended on the tent. They began to prophesy. A young man came and told Moses that two men back in camp were prophesying. Joshua, (Moses's helper) said, "We must stop them." Moses asked him "Are you jealous on my behalf? Don't stop them. Would that everyone in the world would receive the spirit of God" roomed about Ospringle school Friday afternoon. Prizes were given for the best costumes: best animal - octopus, Melanie Paterson; best traditional - devil, Tom Manes, witch, Janice Root; funniest - clowns, Heidi Schotsch and Tammy Andrews, old man, Paul Jessop; scariest - Dracula, Adam Brown; best couple - Siamese twins, Greg Ross and Doug Grundy, bride and groom Lori Van Manen and Debbie Sinclair; fanciest - Drew Ramsden.

The usual neighbor children came to the door for trick or treat. Each little one a year older than last year, and enjoying it that much more.

Service at the Presbyterian Church. Presenting the flags were Pathfinder Rina Blackman, Guide, Jennifer MacDonald and Brownie Heather MacDonald. Special music was contributed by Alma MacDonald on the organ; Marg Blacklock on the piano; Susie Blacklock on trombone and Steven Blacklock on trumpet.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Stubbington attended the Ontario Fur Breeders Field Day at Binghamton Park, Kitchener, last Saturday. The suppliers had booths there, and two Hudson Bay blankets were given for prizes for the mink judging competition. At the close of the day 160 people sat down to enjoy the dinner.

The crew climbed out of the wicker basket and collapsed the balloon, folding it neatly away. Mr. Russell patiently answered all the questions from adults and children. Drop-in again sometime Mr. Russell! Resent visitors with Mrs. Harvey Jestin, were her niece, husband and sons, Mrs. and Mrs. Dave Taylor from Waterloo.

Thank You

Limehouse

Community gift

By Mrs. A.W. Benton
Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McEnery were honored guests at a presentation of a padded card table and chairs set and a sum of cash on behalf of friends from surrounding communities at Limehouse Memorial Hall on November 1. Walter Linham called the young couple to the stage and Mrs. Bert Benton read a welcoming address. Progressive euchre was enjoyed, Jack and Inez Crichton holding high scores and John Benton and Lillie Waldie, the low score.

severe sciatica. He is now starting on therapy that is hoped will relieve the painful condition. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Smith Griffin, 5th Line, last week suffered an accident in the silo that has hospitalized him for a few days. He hopes to be home by the coming week-end.
