Chiropractor at seminar

Dr. W.H. Tom Thompson, an Acton chiropractor, returned this week after attending an intensive four-day post graduate seminar in Las Vegas. Featured on the program was London Smith, M.C., America's foremost pediatrician and popular author of Feed Your Kids Right sharing his discoveries on children's nutrition and their health. Dr. Smith talked of special lung nutrition for those who suffer smoke inhalation, a subject that seemed to be most current in interest. "But mostly he centered on diet and nutrition for children with respiratory problems such as asthma and on hyperactivity," Dr. Thompson said. Also headlining this event was Zig Ziglar probably best known from his many T.V. appearances, most recently 60 minutes and 20/20, and his book, See you at the Top. This seminar was the 251 such gathering in 30 years sponsored by the Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation of Fort Worth, Texas which annually holds its January Seminar in Las Vegas at the MGM Grand Hotel. Because of the recent fire the seminar was moved to the Aladdin. Dr. James W. Parker, Founder and President of PCRF set a mood of thanksgiving and rededication from the very beginning of this meeting.
