

Defensive power aids Ed's

Ed's In-N-Out midgets score on Flamboro in recent OMHA hockey action. Ed's won the game and the series.

Ed's In-N-Out midgets came up with one of their strongest defensive games of the season to capture the first round of OMHA playdowns, winning 5-0 against Flamboro in the third game of the series at the Community Centre Sunday, Feb. 8.

Couch Steve Marshall singled out Tim Evans, who collected a goal and the entire line of Wayne McMillan, Mike Yelowiek and Gino Fronteddu, who figured in two other Acton markers for praise. McMillan scored a pair of goals; the first to open the game at 8:57. Gary White, who played well throughout the series and Rick Greenly picked up the assists. In the second Evans, McMillan and Tim Ferguson counted. Barry McNabb rounded out the scoring in the third. Roy Spear, White, Brain Demone, Fronteddu, Yelowiek and Ferguson earned assists. The midgets were already up two games going into Sunday's match, having won a 10-8 victory Feb. 1 and a narrow 5-4 conquest Wednesday, Feb. 4 in Flamboro. In that game Acton had taken a two-goal lead with a pair from Demone in the first and second frames, but Flamboro rallied to tie it before the period was out. Then Spear, Ferguson and Gord McArthur copped three quick goals at 9:53, 11:01 and 12:07 of the second to put Acton in the lead to stay.
