Club investigates...

(Continued from B1) bell will also be a director. Campbell told the Club she was stepping down because the workload was too much, but thanked everyone for their help in making this season a successful one. She added the progress of Club skaters, particularly the preschoolers has shown the success of the season. The Club also approved an amendment to a Canadian Figure Skating Association (CFSA) club rule related to a professional skating coach, which placed onus on the club of who may or may not serve on a club's committee or executive and added another category in the classes of membership. As well as preschool, junior, intermediate, senior and adult there is non-skating for those over 18 years old who are interested in the sport and the Club but previously could not be a member because no one in the family skated. There will be a small membership fee charge. The next executive meeting will be held on April 14. Meanwhile several club skaters passed their CFSA tests on March 19. In preliminary free skate Cheryl Genoe, Sarah Homer, Stacey Perry and Brenda Porty white Karen MacEachern passed the Tango. The Club is holding their dress rehearsal tomorrow night (Thursday) at the arena in preparation for the annual ice carnival Sunday.

Called Holiday Hi-lites the carnival features all members of the club in a production about favorite vacation resorts.

Oops. Firefighters bantams were upended by Unionville in the annual Georgetown International bantam tournament last Wednesday. They lost 10-8.
