

Keith Lamont, Thistlestone Farms, R.R. 2, Acton, with his award winning Dorset Ram.

Area sheep breeders have top Dorset Ram

A Dorset Ram from the Thistlestone Farms flock of John and Keith Lamont, RR 2, Acton, was the highest gaining ram in an excellent group of 55 fall born Dorset ram lambs, which recently completed tests at the New Hamburg test station.

This growthy test station graduate had an average daily gain on test of 49 kg (1.08 lbs.) and was the first lamb these relatively new breeders had ever station tested.

A new Ontario ram test station has been recently opened by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food at Arkell, which along with the New Hamburg and Kemptville test stations will provide pen space for approximately 400 ram lambs.

Fall and winter born ram lambs with average daily gains equal to or above the breed average of the age group in the station where they were tested will be eligible for the ROP station tested ram sale at Sheep Focus '81 being held on Saturday, July 19, at Markham Fair Grounds.

Thirteen-year-old Mike Ormsby helps load up a car during Saturday morning's fertilizer sale by Trinity Church members.

Superman at AHS....

scene of past triumphs for Superman, and unmask him. Sedgwick also kidnaps Lois and then has a falling out with Max.

The professor proceeds to point out Superman's "neurotic" needs. He charges Superman does nothing to stamp out the causes of crime, just catch crooks. He's a much better adjusted person as Clark Kent and Superman is left shattered emotionally.

The professor is delirious with joy, he'll win awards for destroying the world's symbol of goodness.

The award he receives is from communist China, the Flying Lings are spies who are going to wipe out Metropolis and take a weakened Superman who can't even fly home with them.

They shoot Jim, chaos breaks out and there's a scuffle before Superman comes to his senses and easily defeats the Lings, saving Lois and Max.

Sedgwick tries to escape with Lois his hostage, but is electrocuted by the power station.

Lois and Superman are in love. Superman takes off to stop the Chinese missile heading for Metropolis.

Cowardly Menchen is forced to promise he'll never be bad again by Sydney, who now has her sweetly right where she wants him.

And everyone lives happily ever after.
