

Robert Little Public School pupils presented two performances of the play His Majesty's Pie last week. Much work went into the colorful costumes and detailed sets. The actors were accompanied by choirs.

The evil high chancellor Christopher Griggs outlines his plot to steal the king's pie and blame the innocent jester, Heather Ormsby, for the deed. His plan is foiled by the princess.

No king's court would be complete without soldiers. And there were these troopers in the Robert Little play.

Ole Fisker, right, played the part of the king while Michelle Perry portrayed the princess in the Robert Little Public School production of His Majesty's Pie.

OPP's 'eye in sky' nabs 310 holiday weekend speeders

Milton OPP were literally buzzing over the weekend. With the help of an OPP aircraft, more than 300 motorists were nailed for speeding along Highway 401 between Highway 25 and Kelso area. During the three-day holiday period a total of 310 people received tickets, said Sergeant Ed McPhail of the Milton Department. "We were really surprised," he said.

Plan opening seniors' apts.

A late-June official opening is being planned for the senior citizens' apartments on Elizabeth Drive. The provincial ministry of housing and Halton Housing Authority are gearing up for the ceremonies. Ontario Housing Minister Claude Bennett may be able to attend the opening. Invitations will be sent to others. The Elizabeth Drive apartments have been open about a year.
