

Home of the Handyman

Mono Acrylic Sealant has over 20 years of proven performance in the building industry. This is a specialty grade sealant that has superior weatherability. When architects insist on a product for a commercial or industrial building they do so knowing it has to be as long lasting as possible because unnecessary maintenance is very costly.

If the pros have been using this caulking, why shouldn't you? This high performance sealant has exceptional adhesion. Coming in five best-selling colours: white, tan, brown, aluminum and black. It is an ideal caulking for windows, doors and siding. This makes it a very positive energy conserver.

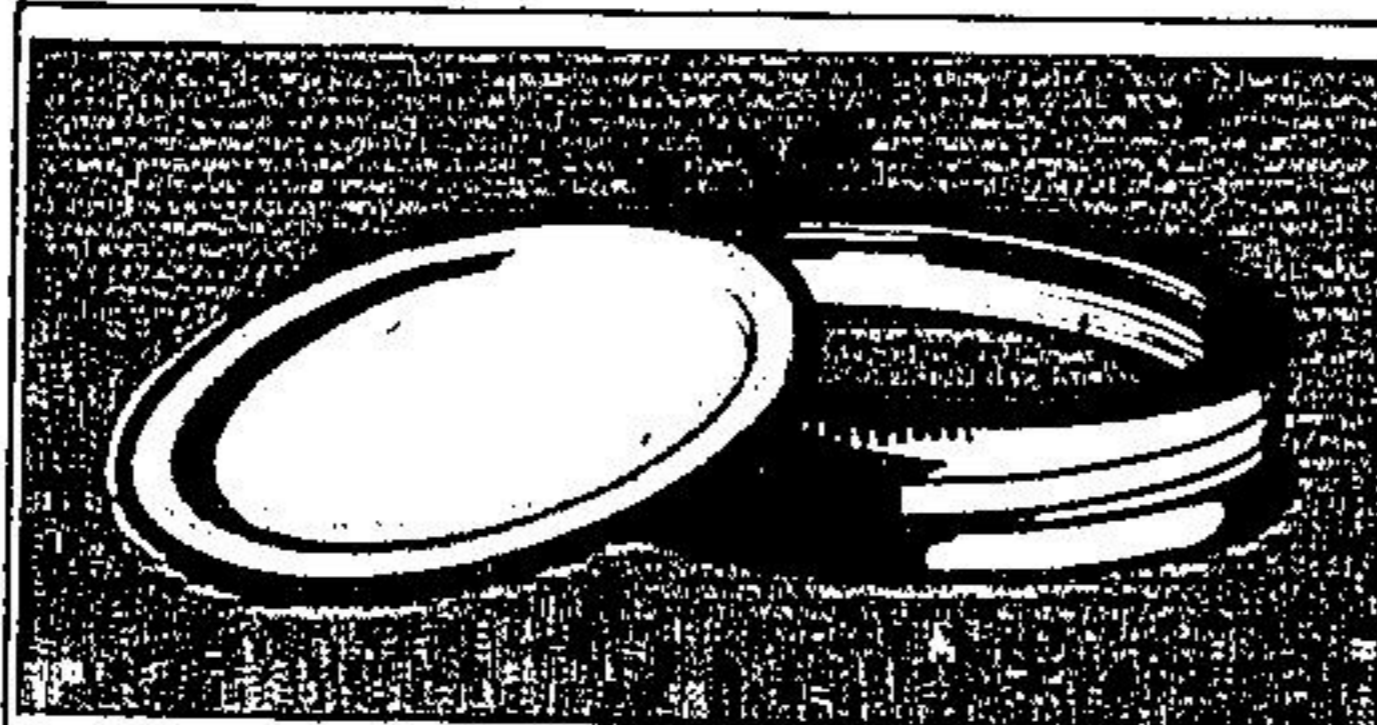

Here are some other features we think you should know: • No primer needed • Resists moisture • Non-staining • Smooth appearance • Withstands movement. It is made by the Consumer Products Division of a very reliable company, Tremco (Canada) Ltd.

Easy Eavestroughing

General Steel Wares (G.S.W.) have now banished old-fashioned (hard-to-do) metal eavestroughing with the very easy-to-do non-peeling, non-rusting, non-flaking, non-corroding, non-leaking vinyl snap-seal gutters and downpipe. Only a hacksaw and a # 8 Phillips screwdriver are required. Six plated 1" # 8 wood screws come with each package of hooks.

Eavestrough should be installed to allow a fall of 1 inch in 40 feet. To do this place a chalk line to mark the top edge of the trough, allowing slope towards downpipe outlet. Snap-Seal eavestrough and downpipe come in 3 metre or approximately 10 feet lengths. To estimate the amount you need, measure the perimeter of your house and divide the number of feet by 10. Measure the distance from trough to ground where you plan on installing downpipe, then divide number of feet by 10.
