Count number of corners required. Mitre is suitable for inside and outside corners. Count one centre drop or end drop for each downpipe assembly. One joiner is used per length of trough. One hook is used on every other rafter (approx. every 32"). 2 hooks are used to support each metre.

One end cap is used for each open end of trough. Two elbows are used for each downpipe. Two clips are also used for each downpipe. One shoe is used to direct flow of water at each downpipe.

To install any fittings peel back sealing pads and install screws flush underneath pads. Do not put screws through pads. Make sure that the rubber pads and the eavestrough are clean before joining. When snapping any fittings together to seal trough, pull trough down to stretch fittings into place.

Brown snap-seal is now available as well as the regular white.
