Zylawys moving to Edmonton

by Doris Fines
Mr. and Mrs. George Zylawy had a "moving" sale recently. Mr. Zylawy has accepted a job in Edmonton, working as a planner for the city. He says he is sorry to be giving up his flourishing sweet corn trade, which he says is a good potential for anyone wanting to keep up the sweet corn business, but he is making this move because his dreams of expanding his business in this area didn't work out as he hoped. He is scheduled to begin his new job in two weeks time. They just spent a week in Edmonton arranging their move there.

prayer by the hostess, followed by lunch. Ward and Flora Bruce visited for a few days with their son and daughter-in-law Mrs. Barry and Carol Bruce and family, at Carp. Church services were dispensed with on October 25 at Ospringle, so the congregation could attend the 100th anniversary service at Burns Presbyterian in Erin, and many went. Witches, black cats, horses, robots, and all sorts of weird creatures came to our door Saturday night, but otherwise all was quiet. I didn't receive any reports of out-of-the-ordinary nonsense taking place.

beautiful duet on Sunday morning at Knox Church, entitled "Reach Out To Jesus." Rev. Noble Dean's sermon was on "The Elder Frodigan". It was the story of the prodigal son and how we have to deal with situations like that of the elder brother. The school children went all out in designing their costumes for the Halloween party Friday afternoon. There was everything from cute little witches to big horses. It was hard to choose prize winners from so many good costumes. Receiving prizes for the funniest were - Phillip Van Manen, Scott Cripps, scariest - Tom Manes, Barry Pletch; fanciest (robot) - Tammy Andrews, Drew Ramsden; most original - (horse) Heidi Schotsch and Julie Lewandowski; most traditional - (witch) Connie McKinnon, (witch) Valerie Sinclair; best couple - Debbie Sinclair and Lori Van Manen, Sherrice Coutts and Leigh Ann Coutts. Prizes for the best decorated pumpkin went to Connie McKinnon, Jason Wereschuk, Tara Cargill. October 25 also seemed a good day to take to the air. A big red, white and blue balloon was seen gliding merrily along, and a couple of small planes were flying around it, like two huge birds wondering whether they should attack or not. October 19 was Professional Development day for all teachers and secretaries in Wellington County. The school staff attended various workshops, such as questioning techniques, geography workshops, environmental studies, stress, school law, and librarian workshop. The secretary, Nancy Trimble, also attended a workshop on stress, and one on budgets. Photographs were taken at the school recently by Rutherford Studios of Kitchener. Grade 4 and 7 students had their hearing tested also.

Rockwood

by Barbara Funk
Hallowe'en is over and the village has put away her ghosts and goblins for another year. There were many parties last week to celebrate the event. The two Rockwood Browne Packs partied together on Tuesday night. Kelly Parkinson brought a huge pumpkin and all the Brownies used their artistic skills to make it a magnificent Jack-o-Lantern. Trudy Milne was the lucky sprite to take it home. The girls spent the rest of the evening playing games and sharing Hallowe'en treats.

Lionettes have set November 18 aside for their annual Shy Night. Doors will be opened at 8 p.m. at the Rockmosa Community Centre. Man struck while delivering

An Orangeville man who was delivering pop at a store on Highway 7 in Rockwood last Wednesday suffered minor injuries when he was hit by a passing car at 1:15 p.m. Ricky Brown's delivery truck was parked and Arthur Hartland, Washago, Ontario, moved his vehicle to the left to go by the truck. The mishap occurred when Sydney Brechin, Fergus, tried to squeeze his car between the parked truck and the Hartland vehicle. Guelph OPP reported. Brechin hit both the truck, causing $150 damage, and Hartland's vehicle, which sustained $200, besides striking Brown. There was $2,500 damage to the Brechin car.

"They thought I was crazy to buy this 68-year-old house, but I knew it could be renovated."
And the good thing about the RRAP program - there was not all that much red tape. It all seemed to happen really quickly."
Erica Mednick, Calgary, Alberta.
"Every time you plugged something in, a fuse would blow. It was a fire hazard. So under CMHC's RRAP program I had a complete new electrical system installed."
Pierre Stevens, Halifax, Nova Scotia.
"We get 100-kilometre an hour winds and snowdrifts halfway up the windows, so we fixed up the house to make it more comfortable."
Fred and Helen Hill, Crownest Pass, British Columbia.
"We fixed up the house with a RRAP grant. There's no sense in tearing down older homes; renovating is cheaper."
Mrs. J. Stewart, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

CMHC believes in encouraging renovation of older homes. And in many cases, financial assistance is provided through CMHC's Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program and Home Improvement Loans. The reason is very simple. About two million of Canada's eight million homes are over forty years old. But it doesn't make sense to tear them down when they show signs of old age. It's better to invest in renovation and keep them well maintained. For advice and publications about CMHC housing programs and services consult your local CMHC office.
