Churchill Candlelight service a success

by J. Turner

The Annual Candlelight Service at Churchill on Sunday evening, December 13 was well attended. The choir presented a delightful Christmas musical by Les Smith entitled "Wow, It's Christmas". Assisting the choir with spoken parts were Terry Soutiere, narrator, Jerry Donnell, Lyn and Danny Medland who played children's parts. Members of the choir with solo spots were Nicki Willmott, Corie Denny, Dana Medland, and Karen Swackhamer. Elizabeth Cooper played the bells, John Duenk, the cornet, assisting organist Marie Anderson. Rev. Jenkins conducted the service and delivered a brief meditation. As the offering collected at Christmas candlelighting traditionally goes to support the work of the choir, the choir members were delighted at the success of the evening, and wish to thank those who helped, and to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

On Saturday evening, the Sunday School and Congregation at Churchill held a tree trimming ceremony. Each of the children brought an ornament of their own making, and everyone, young and old, participated in the fun of decorating the beautiful spruce, and also the church windows. Carols were sung, and Rev. Jenkins told the Christmas story. The ladies made hot chocolate and served a delicious lunch, to bring the evening to a close.

We were deeply sorry to hear of the recent death of Clifford Storey in hospital in Burlington. Mr. Storey had been in declining health for a couple of years and was a resident of Halton Manor in Milton. He had been looking forward to celebrating his 84th birthday last week.

The funeral was held from Churchill Church where he has been an elder for many years. His particular interest was the Bible Society. Mr. Storey farmed in the Ovington area and on the Fourth Line east of Acton.

He was a great family man, proud of his sons and daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, many of whom reside in this area. His wife, Edith, still active in church and community affairs, resides in the Senior Citizens' apartments on Elizabeth Dr., Acton.
