Christmas decorating contest winners

Judging has been completed in the Acton Beautification Committee's second annual Christmas decoration contest, but not all the winners know they're winners yet.
 Roy and Kathy Vandermeer, 244 McDonald Blvd., took top spot and the Actario ticket prize.
 Second place, $25, was won by Joe and Darlene Brown, 90 Acton Blvd.
 The third prize winners hadn't been notified by press time because they aren't home. The judges don't know who lives at 154 Tyler Ave., but they were impressed by their decorating. They've won a voucher from Family Cleaners.
 Honorable mention went to the decorating efforts of seniors at Lakeview Villa as well as Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Muhling and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stuckey at 98 and 96 Kingham Rd.
 The judges were Laura Dittrich, Bonnie Smith and Heather Knapp. Prizes to the winners will be presented tomorrow (Wednesday).

Kellar to court

The man charged with first degree murder in connection with the October 22 stabbing death of Colleen Oates will appear in Milton Provincial Court at 9:30 a.m. on December 29.
 Eric Howard Kellar had been remanded to the Penetanguishene Mental Health Centre in early November to undergo psychiatric testing. He was remanded for a period of time not to exceed 60 days.
 It will be his second court appearance, and quite routine.

Appeal adjourned

The Crown's appeal of a careless driving sentence for a Burlington man in connection with a car-bicycle accident in the summer of 1980 in which a former Acton and Esquesing resident was killed was adjourned Thursday until February 25.
 Walter Valente was convicted of careless driving last summer and sentenced to a $200 fine and his driver's licence suspended for a year.
 Feeling the sentence was too soft for an incident in which three women were killed and two others injured, Crown Attorney James Treloven appealed. The case was to be heard Thursday, but because Valente has a new lawyer it was set over to February 25.

In the accident Lorraine Robertson (nee Lavigne) was killed. She had lived in the Acton area for eight years before moving with her husband and children to Hamilton.
 Valente's car struck the five women who were cycling on Plains Rd. in Burlington on a July night.
