Nassagaweya WI

Evening of metric puzzles

by Katharine Garwood

The Nassagaweya Womens' Institute held its first meeting of the New Year at the home of Mrs. Hazel Strachan on January 20. The evening was a metric puzzler with enlightening information on metric conversion provided by Mrs. Joyce Batt.

Commencing on a sad note, the ladies learned of the passing of Mrs. H. Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the Federated Womens' Institute. A minute's silence was observed.

Everyone then shared their thoughts on how, as parents, they can influence their children in modern society. The general concensus was that untethered love was most important. All of the members agreed parents should always have the time to listen to their children and should never deceive them.

There was some reflection on the year gone by and the hope for an even more successful 1982. Plans were made for a Safety night at Brookville Hall on Wednesday, February 10 at 8 p.m. Captain Hal Penson of the Milton Fire Department will show a movie and talk about Woodstove and Fireplace safety. The public is invited to share this evening and refreshments. Euchre night will be on March 31. It was agreed to again host the Nassagaweya Womens' Institute Homefest in October.

A discussion on Family and Consumer Affairs was prepared by Mrs. Batt and Mrs. Hilda Heist. Mrs. Batt undertook to introduce the metric system. After amusing anecdotes, simple charts and much chatter, the ladies of Nassagaweya can now cast aside all thoughts of feet, furlongs and finger spans. The unit 10 was divided, multiplied and added into metres, litres, grammes and centemetres. For the temperature it was learned that 30's hot, 20's nice, 10's cool and 0's ice. As a closing note there was a word for the men folk - a 10 gallon hat will be 45.46 litres.

Dublin W.I.

Making quilting block

The home of Mrs. J. McLean was the setting of the Dublin WI's recent meeting.

President Mrs. Besley opened the meeting with a poem and then all repeated the Institute Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer. Roll call was answered by giving "A Rural Sound or Smell that Appeals to Me". Minutes of the last meeting were read and the correspondence was dealt with.

Three quilt blocks are to be made by each Institute, then put together and quilted at the Erland Lee Home in Stoney Creek. The group learned of the death of Mrs. H. Wilson, District Secretary. Mrs. Glenda Benton from Limehouse Institute will be replacing her.

The Officer's Conference for Public Relations will be held at Waterloo University on May 4, 5 and 6. Mrs. C. Armstrong will be attending. The 85th anniversary celebration is to be held in Toronto on August 12 and two delegates were appointed to go, Mrs. E. Norton and Mrs. W. Lasby.

The first week in June is WI Week at the Erland Lee Home and Dublin WI will be asked to send one person to help quilt for one day.

Mrs. W. Lasby gave a Motto entitled "It won't help your crops to sit on the fence and count your neighbor's weeds". She informed the group that 480,000 people were engaged in farming in 1981 and the average age of the farmer was 50 to 52 years. She ended with a poem entitled "Definition of a Farmer."

Mrs. A. Murchison gave a report of a Farm Safety meeting she attended at Wellington Place in Fergus.

Topic convenor, Mrs. C. McIntyre, gave a report on Agriculture. She told the story of Miss Nancy McKinnon after she graduated from the University of Guelph in Agriculture. She started off her work in Middlesex County and her daily work sounded interesting and very busy.

Collection was taken and all sang the Institute Grace. The lunch committee consisting of Mrs. M. McCullough, Mrs. D. Hunter and Mrs. H. Haefner served lovely sandwiches with a relish plate. Courtesies were given by Mrs. E. Wilson.

Greenock WI

Discuss budgets

The January meeting held at the home of Mrs. C. Allen of Greenock Women's Institute was opened by the reading of two poems, "Three Gifts and The Book" by the President Mrs. W. Aitkens.

Meditations were given by Mrs. S. Howarth. Items of business were collection of Zehr and Dominion tapes, $75 was submitted by Miss E. Pearen from commission of Regal sales and items of mail read of upcoming events in the Institute.

Mrs. J. McCullock read a letter from Rockcliffe WI Northumberland County, England, where she had attended WI meetings.

The program was handled by the family and consumer affairs committee. Mrs. S. McKinnon gave an interesting talk on "Budget—Splitting The Dollar, Where Does It All Go."

Mrs. J. McCullock read an article from the Ontario Federation of Agriculture newsletter entitled "Wages For Farm Wives Aren't Always the Answer."

The Roll Call, "Ways I try to stay within my budget" was answered by 15 members. Mrs. G. Wallace and Miss A. Pearen served lunch assisted by the hostess. Mrs. A. Gates thanked the hostess and committee.

Pat wants to help . . .

has always been active, never resting between projects, he feels there may be some connection.

McKenzie is one of the luckier victims. Only his legs are affected. He has full use of the rest of his body, but admits he tires easily. In fact, wearing heavy clothing is a burden, and he cannot wear his leather coat because of its weight.

Doctors say the disease can spread throughout the body, or remain dormant. There is no known cure, but he has exercises he must do to keep his legs in shape. Because of the lack of regular exercise, McKenzie says, he feels his muscles are weakened by that also, in addition to the disease. He rides an exercise bike, and does daily exercises. The only medication he takes are vitimins and minerals.

With the help of a quad cane, McKenzie can go for short walks. He has had his car specially equipped with hand controls so he can get out of the house and visit, an idea which was suggested to him from L and L Ford owner Lorne Doberthien.

McKenzie says he is in no pain, although he has heard of those who are. It will not affect his brain, he has been assured.

Even though just recently discovered, McKenzie was told he could have had the disease for two or three years before it became obvious. Remembering back, he says he has had leg cramps for the past few years, which could possibly tie in with his problem.

McKenzie remembers the depression he went through, and the feeling of helplessness while in the hospital undergoing tests. He did not fully understand what was happening to him.

But now that he is home he realizes there are other people in the country afflicted with this disease who went through the same emotions as he did. He wants to help them understand they are not alone.

For this reason, he is hoping to start an Ontario chapter of the ALS Society. Through word of mouth he has discovered many people, some in this area, are in the same boat as he is and thinks they should ban together to help each other.

But McKenzie isn't letting a little problem like this get in his way of leading a productive life. Together with Kay Dills, he is putting out a book on the history of the United Church in Acton, and sits on the Halton Housing Authority as well as other political parties. And he didn't let his illness stop him from canvassing from door to door in December with a petition to protest tax money being spent on the town hall.

He is also busy reading books and talking on the telephone, something which he admits he does a lot. But he becomes stir crazy sometimes, especially in this cold weather. He hasn't been outside in over a week and longs for some fresh air.

An upcoming trip to Florida has been ordered by the doctor, medicine he finds not all that hard to take. Upon his return he will be pushing for the formation of an ALS Society to help those less fortunate than himself.

Teachers appointed

Halton Board of Education Thursday evening approved the appointments of teachers to three Acton and area schools.

Ann Geh will be teaching at Speyside and Harrison (in Georgetown), and Judith Paterson and John Winter are at McKenzie-Smith Middle School.

Appoint director

Halton Region has a new director of social services starting in March.

She is Deborah Oakley, currently managing the Toronto area, North West office of the Ministry of Community and Social Services. Ms. Oakley will take over the position vacated in June, 1981 by Rennie Vivian. Vivian opted to leave the position as head of the department due to health reasons, and took a position as manager of Income Maintenance within the department.

Regional Chairman Jack Raftis said the region had considered 50 applications over a seven-month period
