Teachers may face 6% wage ceiling

Teachers may find themselves facing a firm offer of a six per cent salary increase when the Halton Board of Education next sits down with representatives of both its elementary and secondary school teachers.

Ray Stoness, superintendent of instruction said the six per cent salary increase ceiling imposed Monday by the federal government on its employees may form a base for taking a stand in board-teacher negotiations.

President of the Ontario Secondary Teachers Federation, Joe Harwood agreed that it may form a ceiling on the salary aspect of the package. However, unless Frank Miller (Ontario treasurer) imposes a wage ceiling, it would only be a guideline.

Trinity UCW

Rev. Beaton guest

The regular meeting of Trinity UCW was held at the home of Jean Johnson on the First Line on June 8. Though planned as a picnic, for the third year in a row, damp, cool weather conditions forced all inside to enjoy a bountiful pot luck meal.

Rev. Chuck Beaton was present and spoke with feeling of our life together over the past years, and invoked the Blessing. Mrs. Force presided for the meeting which opened with prayer by Kay Hart. Helen Little gave her carefully detailed report of the May meeting and read the correspondence.

Dorothy Simmons turned in a handsome sum of money from the Quilting Group and told of several quilts made for different charities. A bright and cheerful quilt made by Helen Pickett and quilted by the Group for a lady who had lost all her belongings in a fire was displayed and admired. Dorothy reported on many cards sent out and that she and Rev. Beaton had visited Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Brook and were pleased to find them enjoying good health and continuing to enjoy their beautiful needlework.

Ethel Denny gave highlights of the Toronto Conference which she had attended as one of the delegates from Trinity United. Laurie Cook, President of TAG, announced their group is planning on holding their annual bazaar again in

Fourth Line reconstruction financing set with town loan

Halton Hills will kick in $250,000 for the reconstruction of the Fourth Line north of 22 Sideroad and be paid back by the owners of a gravel pit on the road with interest.

After months of negotiations the town has struck a deal which will see the money paid back with interest with J.C. Duff and Bolt Construction giving unconditional guarantees and the town will have a charge against the land. The municipality had wanted an irrevocable letter of credit and a repayment date of June 30, 1985, but those provisions were lost during negotiations, clerk-administrator Ken Richardson reported Monday at general committee.

Originally the owners of the gravel pits and province were to share totally in the cost of the reconstruction of the road but now the province will put in about $5,000, the pit company, which has a number for a name, $250,000 and the town $250,000.

If wayside pit permits are issued so gravel can be taken out for provincial highway construction the town will receive a total of five cents a ton in payment against the $250,000 loan.

Committee approved the deal and Richardson said this means the project can start fairly soon.

Halton Community TV show "Keeping in Touch" had a special guest last week. John Tonelli of the New York Islanders was a guest of hosts Tim Nevins and Dave Tonelli.
