is a "UFFI House", which is worthless, so therefore he cannot start to rebuild.

Now Hilton faces the reality that he is paying for a worthless house.

The Hiltons were directed by their Mississauga lawyer to Lyons Arbus where Mike Harpur has been put in charge of the UFFI cases. He has started the litigation on behalf of his clients against the government, and recommended the Hiltons take part in the first ever experiment with human beings with the insulation begun in Kingston earlier this month.

Dr. James Day, head of the allergy section at Queen's Hospital has been given a $25,000 grant to investigate the problem.

Using four days of his holidays, Ted and his family along with six other people spent up to 14 hours a day in a special chamber where the oxygen intake was controlled. Every half-an-hour the "subjects" were to record their feelings, if they got nausea, had a headache, etc., and the times they felt ill. The researchers were pumping oxygen, formaldehyde gases and other gases into the room at unannounced times without the subjects' knowledge.

The experiments were done on a completely non-bias basis, with their bodily functions under computerized testing before, during and after each day's experiments. The researchers covered all bases so they would be able to answer any questions which may come up in the future.

Hilton says the results won't be known until October. And, he claims, it may turn out the UFFI fears are completely unfounded, that the researchers may have come up with answers to their illnesses.

But no matter what the results, Hilton's case will be helped. He noted if the experiments say UFFI is safe, his home is again labelled safe, and he will be able to sell it at market value. If UFFI is discovered not to be safe, then the federal government will be forced to take action for Hilton and the other 80,000 Canadians who are in this position.

In the meantime, unless Hilton can find someone to remove the foam and rebuild his house for less than $150,000 he will have to bring in the bulldozers.

Sports Camp had their day at the Acton Community Centre last week roller skating. Here instructor John Warnock skates with Laura Anderson and Scott Rowell.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGowan

Wed 50 years

Guests came from as far away as Germany and New York City for the golden wedding anniversary celebrations of George and Dorothy McGowan, RR 3, Acton, Saturday.

The couple was married July 23, 1932 in Toronto. Mrs. McGowan is the former Dorothy Bagshaw.

For 35 years, Mr. McGowan was an inspector of gas and electricity for the federal government. Fifteen years ago they became involved in the setting up of the Acton golf course and moved here from Mississauga. They still live in their home backing onto Acton Meadows.

Numerous floral arrangements, cards and gifts filled their spacious bungalow at an open house hosted by their son Douglas and his wife Gwen. Certificates were received from Governor General Edward Schreyer, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, Ontario Premier Bill Davis and Halton-Burlington MPP Julian Reed.

Two telephone calls were received from England, one from Chicago and one from West Virginia. Flowers were also sent from England.
