Ospringle

Area teachers work all over

by Doris Fines
Mrs. Hazel Lightle of Acton, and Mrs. Harold Theaker had an interesting week of holidays in Newfoundland. They flew to Halifax, N.S., then to Stephenville, and toured Newfoundland from there by bus. They said they had a wonderful escort on the bus. They saw men fishing for squid, and saw them (the squid) laid out to dry along the side of the road. They visited Trinity, the oldest town in North America, and Salvage, where the squid fishing equipment is made. They also climbed to the top of a lighthouse, which they admitted to be kind of scary when you got to the top. Cattle roamed free along the road, and lots of blueberries were to be had for the picking.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kearns will be living for the winter with their daughter and son-in-law Anne and Bruce Smith and sons. They moved in last week, and we hope they enjoy their stay in Ospringle.

Do you wish to join up with Brownies, Guides, Cubs or Scouts this year? Registration for all Ospringle groups will be Monday September 13, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Brownies will be meeting Tuesday evenings, Guides on Thursdays after school, Cubs Wednesday evenings, and Scouts Monday evenings.

The holidays are over for the children as they return to school. The holidays are also over for the teachers, who have to go back to the classrooms too. And where are all the teachers of the community going to be?

Barbara McKinnon will be teaching full time this year, kindergarten at Erin in the morning, and also remedial and grade 4-5. Bonnie Schotch is again teaching kindergarten at Hillsburgh.

Sandra Ferguson is still at Brisbane, but has switched to Remedial French and Core French. Anne Smith has returned to Ospringle, teaching grade 2-3 and Core French. She will also be directing the school choir.

Brenda Bruce teaches grade 5 at Bow Valley School in Oshawa. She also conducts the school choir. Last year she had 90 choir members. Joan Silk is at Georgetown District High School, and will be teaching one
