Jake Kuiken

Kuiken enters contest

It will be at least a three way race for the two area council seats for Esqueping.

Jake Kuiken, 47, owner/operator of Halton Hills Furniture and Appliances in Acton and a resident at RR 2 Acton for 17 years has announced he's running for a seat on Halton Hills Council.

Incumbent Pam Sheldon and newcomer Peter Norton from Glen Williams are already in the race and former Mayor Tom Hill may seek an area seat in Ward Two or run against incumbent regional councillor Russ Miller.

Kuiken said he will be raising the issue of what Esqueping ratepayers get for their hefty tax dollars—nothing. He notes since regional government, rural taxes have soared, but services haven't increased.

Another issue is aggregate and the proposal from regional planning staff to freeze huge tracts of land in North Halton, much of it in the rural area around Acton, for possible future mining. Kuiken said he will certainly be opposed to more gravel pits and quarries.

A third issue he'll be talking about is restoration of the old town hall in Acton. Kuiken believes since council won't restore the building they should at least turn the building over to the committees working to save the town hall to see if they can restore it.

Garage, factory burglarized

Two break-ins occurred in the Acton area early on the morning of October 2, according to Halton Regional Police.

Thieves went into Desmond Noblett's garage and took three chainsaws worth about $1,500. His garage door was unlocked.

The Frank Heller Company, at 125 McDonald Blvd. in Acton, was broken into according to police. There was nothing stolen, but a vending machine, a dollar changing machine and an office door were damaged. Damages were estimated at $1,139. Police believe entry was made through a side door, although there was no indication of a forced entry.

Driver hits hydrant

On Sunday morning, an Acton woman became stuck in a driveway after she veered off Cobblehill Rd. into a ditch, Halton Police say.

Eighteen-year-old Barbara Wilson was going westbound on Cobblehill when she veered off into a ditch, striking a driveway abutment. When she reversed she became hung upon the driveway.

Damage to her car was $400, and damage to the abutment and the driveway is estimated at $800.

Cook stove is stolen

Guelph OPP are investigating the theft of a 1923 McLeary Cook Stove from a Rockwood residence. The stove is valued at $800.
