Eight groups have bazaar

by Mrs. G. MacDougall
Ward Chesworth recently attended the funeral of his father in Northwich, England. Sincere condolences are expressed to the Chesworth family. Ward was only home for a short period when he was airborne again, this time to Spain where he is lecturing.

Mrs. Elizabeth Swartzenburg has returned from a plane trip to Calgary where she visited her sister. Mr. and Mrs. Roger MacDougall, Tara and Troy have taken up residence in Acton again after selling their home here. Best wishes for a happy future in their new surroundings.

A welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Widmeyer who have purchased the MacDougall property. The Community Club, Friendly Seniors, Craft Club, Pathfinders, Guides, and Brownies, United and Presbyterian churches combined to hold one big bazaar on November 27. There was something for everyone and it proved to be successful for all organizations. There were several lucky draws and winners were as follows: At the Friendly Seniors: Dorothy Jennings and Jessie Bould. At the Craft Club: Wilma Gilbertson and David Barclay whose grandmother from Scotland purchased his ticket while on a visit to Canada. At the Pathfinders and Guides: July Bean Guess, Louise Klepfer and Penny Guess, Mavis Stamp. Thanks to all who were involved to make this a community spirited affair.

At the United Church, Rev. Russell Finley baptised James Brandon, son of Harvey and Debbie Taylor. Relatives, some from Kingston were present for this Christening service.

Mr. Pickett, of 101 Bower Avenue, was born September 5, 1904, in Nassagaweya, and lived in Acton for the past 35 years.

Pay tribute to Clifford Storey

by J. Tarver
The Rev. E.M. Jenkins was back in the pulpit on Sunday after attending a church conference in Florida, and brought with him some friends from Toronto. Peter Gray, a colleague in the entertainment field, brought his guitar and sang two carols, "Mary's Boy Child" and "Go Tell It On The Mountain". As it was the second Sunday in Advent, Laurie Swackhamer lit the second candle on the Advent wreath, while Karen Swackhamer presented a reading. Jack Denny, backed by Churchill's Junior Choir, sang "How Great Thou Art".

Peace was the theme of the Conference he had attended, and Mr. Jenkins based his sermon on that topic. In a brief ceremony of remembrance, tribute was paid to Clifford Storey, a faithful elder and strong supporter of the church, who passed away a year ago. Also a potted cyclamen was presented to Mrs. Edith Storey as a symbol of our gratitude for her husband's years of service. Members of the Storey family who attended the service were: Wes and Marian Storey, Acton, Alice and Bob Szoke, and Dale, from Burlington, Bruce and Laurie Storey from Barrie. They all went round to the Woodruff Heart for brunch after the service.

Your prayers are requested for the Rev. A.W. Fosbury and for Mrs. Fosbury as they pass through difficult days. Mr. Fosbury underwent surgery at Guelph General Hospital last week. Andrea Sislak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sislak, Fifth Line, was married on Saturday to Richard Dennis, Toronto. The wedding and reception were held at the Old Mill in Etobicoke. The many beautiful orchids in the floral arrangements, bridal bouquets, and corsages were grown by Katie Sislak and a friend. Friends in the community were sorry to hear of the death last Monday of Mrs. Eunice Reid in Guelph General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid lived and farmed for many years on Lot 8, Con. 4, Erin Township. They retired to Guelph over 20 years ago, but their roots were strong in this community, and they used to drive out two or three times a year to visit the old farm and the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Martin deBruyn. Our sympathy is extended to members of the family.

Obituary

Clare Pickett

Funeral service was held December 4 for Clare Campbell Pickett who died in Guelph following a lengthy illness, on December 2. Mr. Pickett, of 101 Bower Avenue, was born September 5, 1904, in Nassagaweya, and lived in Acton for the past 35 years.

of Guelph, and sister-in-law Mrs. Gladys Pickett of Kitchener. He was predeceased by a brother Elmer in Miami.
Andrew King officiated at the funeral. Interment was at Evergreen Cemetery, in Milton. Pallbearers were Stanley Norris, Ivan Richardson, Malcolm Moffatt, Al Duby, Douglas Manning and Phillip Wilson.

Family movies over holidays

Parents who are tired of trying to find movies acceptable for children will get a break this month, when Georgetown's Cinema 3 will run family rated movies from December 17 until the end of the month. Dark Crystal, a film for all ages is an adventure movie with tremendous special effects, and is rated PG. Jackie Gleason and Richard Pryor pool their talents in "The Toy". Tom Cleaver, manager of Cinema 3, says lots of good laughs, but warns of some swearing.

A new Heidi movie, called Heidi's Song is for the little ones and is a Disney-type show.

Custom the back edges of picture frames with can plasters or mastic, and the frames won't make marks on the wall.
Mindful thread is less likely to tangle if you make a knot at each thread end, instead of braiding ends together.
Pine stripes can be used to remove lacquer from brass before repolishing.
Decorate a cutting board with a piece of baking soda and water. Let stand, then scrub and rinse.
