

Lisa Sansom, daughter of Geoff and Eva Sanson, RR 4 Acton, was invited to Christmas party atop the CN Tower in the Sparkies Lounge on the weekend.

Lisa is a regular contributor to Stan Fisher's "The Enigma Column" in the Sunday Star, having received many honorable mentions for answering his quizzes and riddles. Fisher held a party for all his regular contributors, so Lisa and her Mom got to go along.

Sunday's column gave readers clues as to where the party was being held, but apparently only one person was able to figure out the mystery and showed up. The other 200 were invited guests.

Lisa, 13, was one of only a few children there. Her mother says there were no teenagers, mainly adults. The youngest was about 11 years old.

This time of the year can be very lonely if you don't get out. The North Halton Volunteer Centre would like to help by finding someone in need of a companion. This friend would be expected to visit someone a few hours a week.

There is currently a position available in rural Acton. A mature woman would make a good friend for this person who enjoys handwork, jigsaw puzzles and recent British history.

If you could spare a few hours a week to brighten someone's day, please call Carol Clark at 877-3219.

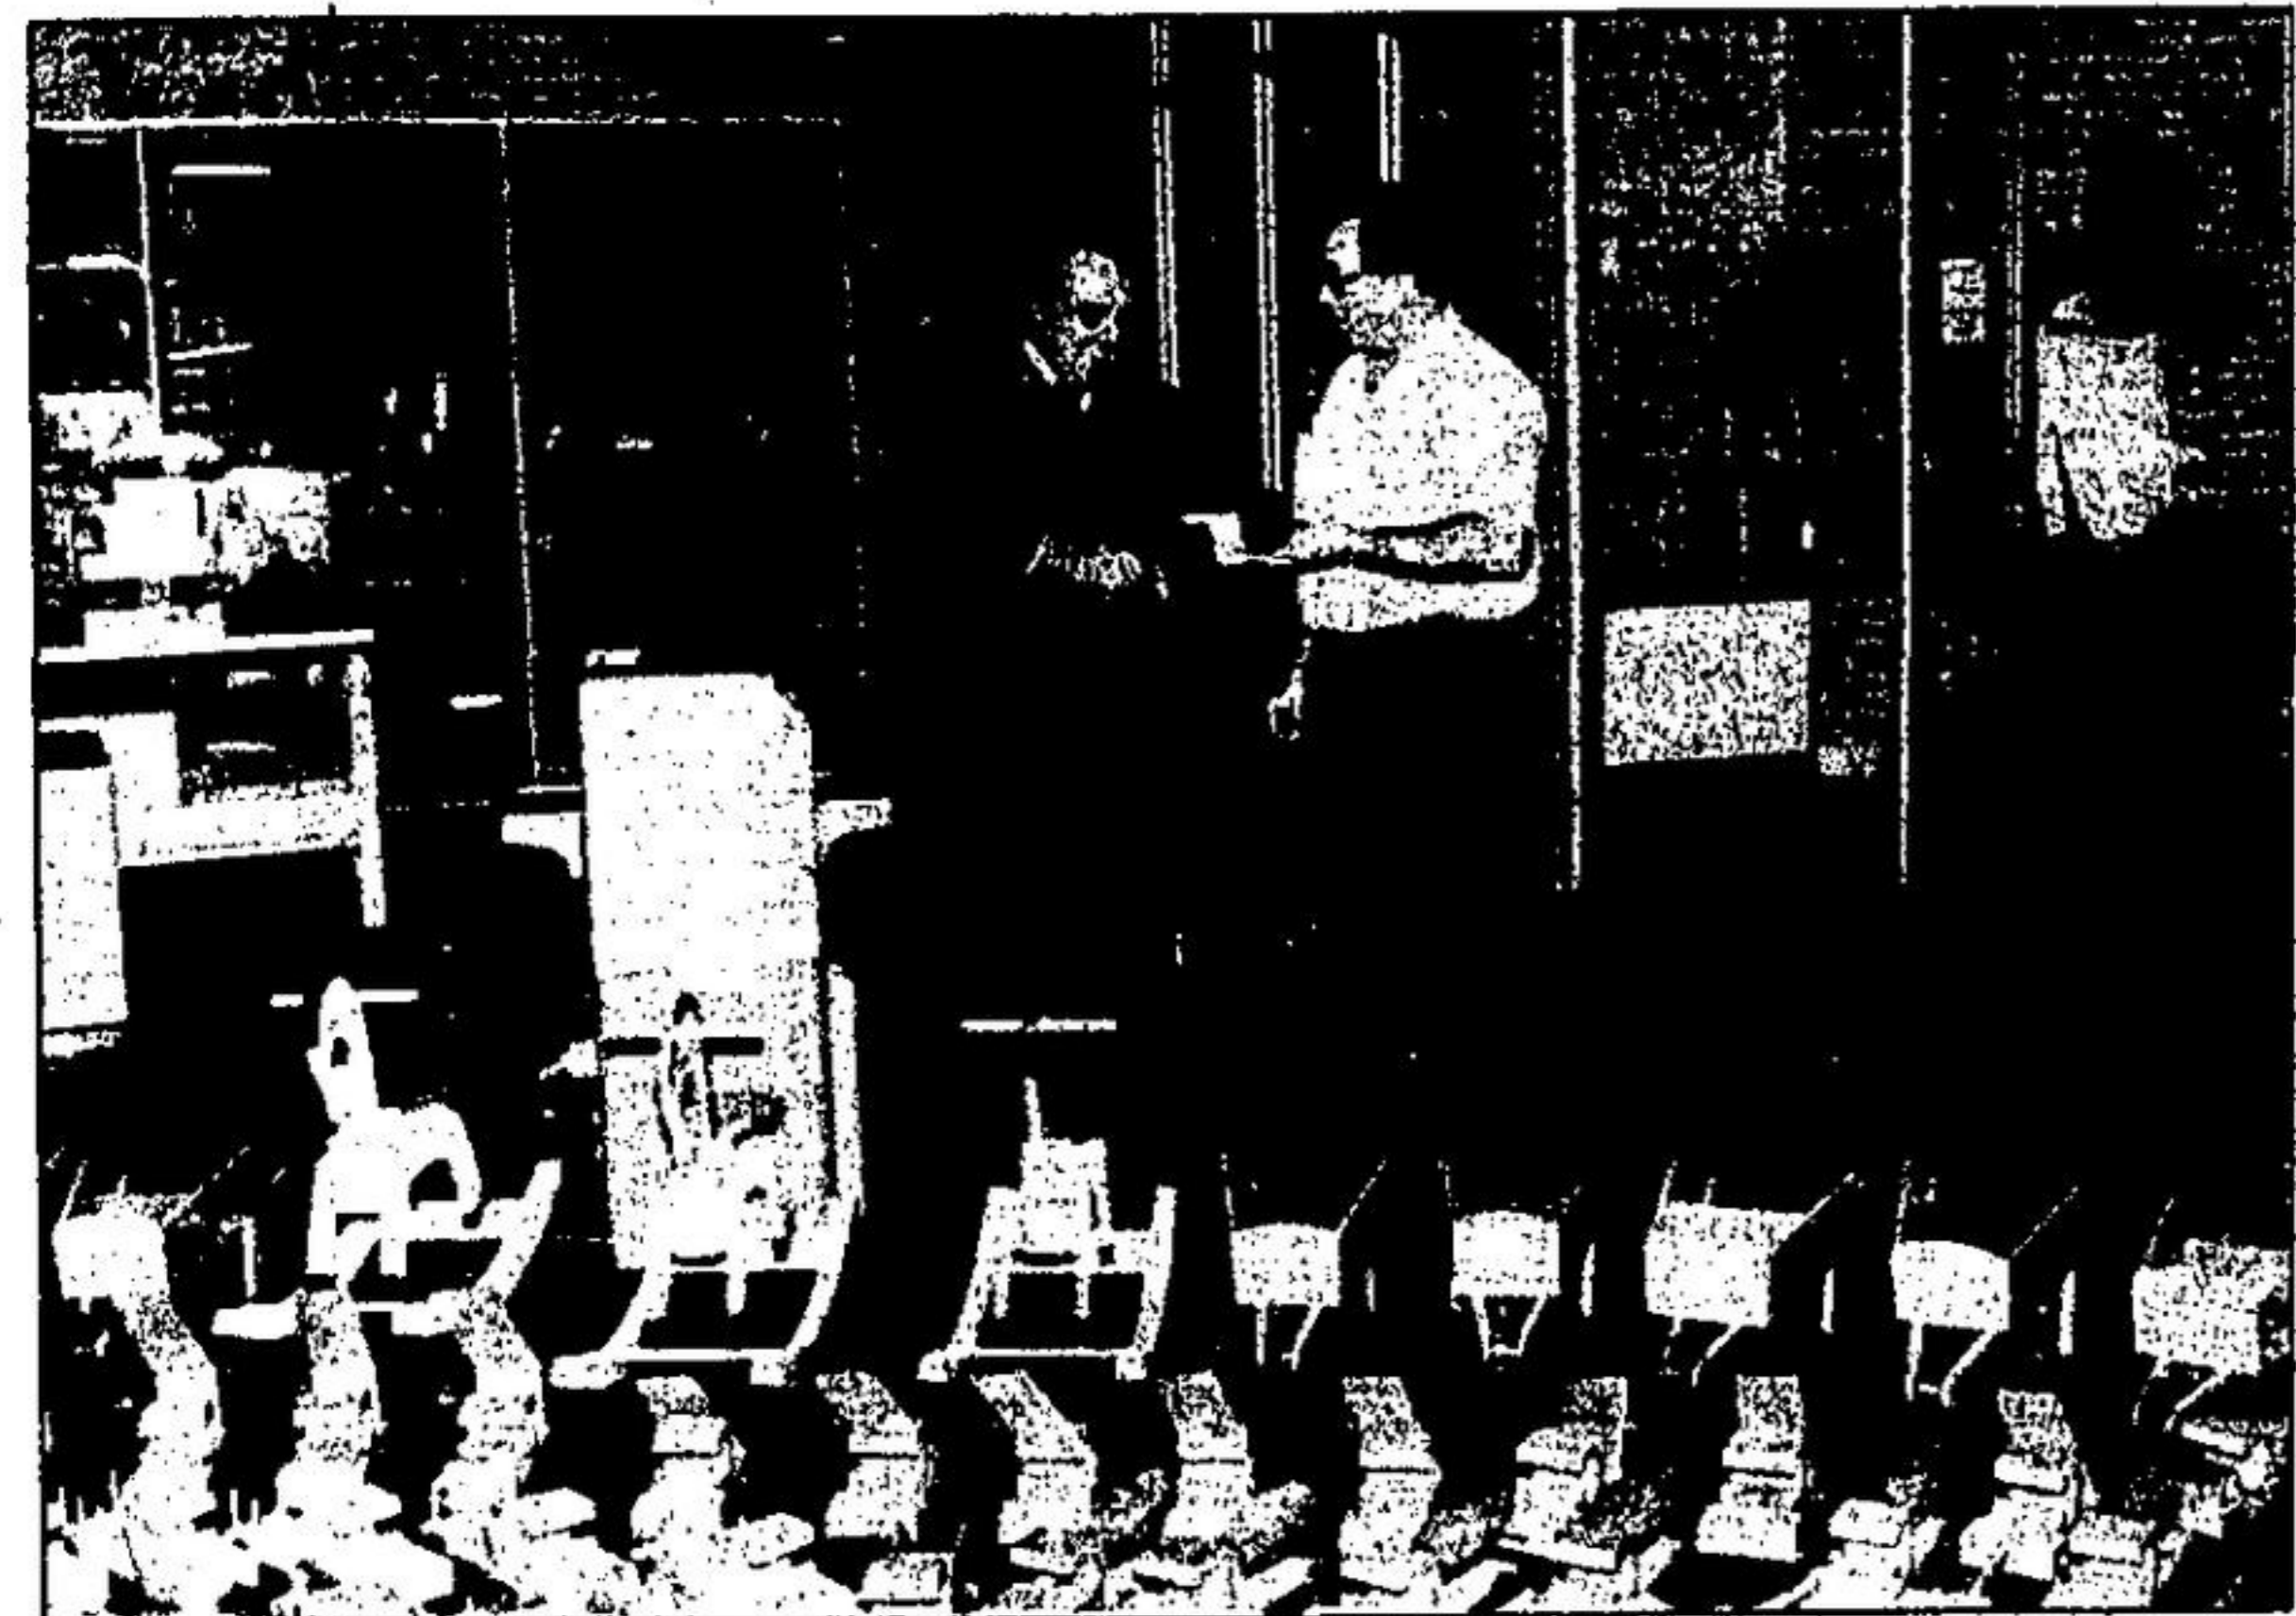

Charlotte Marchment, who has a regular program on Halton Cable television is having a Christmas special tonight (Wednesday) at 5.30 and again on Christmas Eve at 6 p.m. Special co-host will be Pastor Paul Nelnechuk, along with the regular co-host Reg McElroy. There will be a special presentation of art work.

Mrs. Marchment's daughter Nancy will also be on the show, which is named "Christ Cares for His Children."

Mrs. Robert Hadden, of Toronto, the former Miss Anderson of Lorne School was in town last week visiting the olde Hide House. She wishes to be remembered to any Acton student with a special hello to Wes Masales and Ruth Finlay.

The Acton Sabres Hockey team is having a burning of past bills at the beginning of Saturday night's game at 8.30 at the arena. I guess this is something like a mortgage burning.

Anyone looking forward to seeing St. Joseph's Choir sing Christmas Caroles on Channel 13's Tempo program this Friday can forget it. The Favoy Douglas Vale, of the Salvation Army accepts handmade toys from Jerry Disano of Acton to go to needy children in town. The toys were made by wards of the Ontario Correctional Institute in Brampton. Disano is the life skills manager. The toys will be included in Christmas hampers.
