Coaches, unpaid

Dear Sir:

I have been following with interest the controversy involving Minor Hockey, its coaches and executive.

Acton Minor Softball Association during the past season also had numerous complaints passed on directly or indirectly regarding coaches, and or executive. This is a right parents have and should exercise when they see fit as they are paying part of the cost for their children's participation.

The point often being overlooked, however, is that the coaches and executive are unpaid volunteers with little or no expertise, but a willingness to help in areas where their own children are involved and thus adding the children of others as well.

Acton Minor Softball Association advertised in your newspaper of December 1, of our annual meeting to be held on December 7. Numerous parents were also informed verbally. The number of parents who attended the meeting totalled three, not bad representation for the 285 children registered in 1982.

If the 1982 executive had not agreed to stand for re-election where would Minor Softball be for the coming season? We the executive are not in this for personal gain, or because we have little to do with our time, as we also have jobs, children involved in activities which require our time, as well as our own personal activities.

As I mentioned before parents have a right to complain, however, it would be appreciated if the complaints were followed with alternatives and/or help directing the Organizations toward the future.

This can only be done by becoming involved even just a little, rather than leaving a lot to be carried out by a few. Remember, we are only a few needing assistance in the activities of your children.

Elmer Dunn.
Acton Minor Softball Assoc.

Don't forget Monday noon is the deadline for next week's sports.
