

Free Press news editor Helen Murray was presented with a plaque Friday evening for her second place win in the Ontario Community Newspapers' Association best news story competition, sponsored by CFRB. Ros

Tyler of the OCNA made the presentation at the annual convention in Toronto. The story selected was her coverage of the six week Dominion Hotel fire murder trial.

$300 fine for drum practice

Practicing on the drums was a costly music lesson for a local townhouse resident. He was convicted under the noise bylaw and fined $300 by Milton Justice of the Peace Murray Allen, so Bylaw Enforcement Officer Jack Lusty told this newspaper.

He said a neighbor called police when the floors were vibrating with the noise of the amplified drums. Police could get no answer at the door nor the telephone, the noise was so loud, said Lusty.

The Town laid the charge, one of the first such prosecutions undertaken by the Town.

Area man wins car, cash

Congratulations are forthcoming to Ed Stewart, who was the winner of a new Chrysler convertible automobile, plus a $5,000 cheque, from the J.I. Case Company, in a sales promotion deal. It was a cross-Canada program. The Case people set up the quotas and the volume last fall, and five cars were given away for over-all sales from that time. Three cars went to Western Canada, and two were won in the east. The meeting and presentation was last Saturday night in Toronto for the dealers from Eastern Canada, when Ed and a dealer from Barrie were presented with their trophies. They will receive the keys to their cars at a later date.

Congratulations also to Norman and Hilda McKenzie, who became grandparents again on last Thurs. Richard Cordick and Linda McKenzie Cordick are the proud parents of a wee daughter, Ashleigh McKenzie Cordick, who weighed in at 5 lbs. 13 oz. in Guelph.

Sherlock Foreman returned to his home in Fort Worth, Texas, last Thursday, and Harold Aitken of Toronto has been spending a few days with his brother Gordon Aitken.

Ward and Flora Bruce visited last weekend at Carp with their son Barry, Carol and children. They saw a delightful play at the Arts Building in Ottawa, "Mass Appeal", on Saturday evening. Miss Elva Pearen went to Carp with the Bruce's to visit her nephew Jim Aitken, his wife and twin sons.

Bill Munshaw from Clarkson, was guest speaker on Sunday at Knox Presbyterian Church. His sermon was based on the prodigal son. The message was that when we are true to God, we are face to face with Him, but when we have sinned against Him, we turn our back on Him, but He does not turn His back on us.

Heidi Schotsch, Ospringe school's top speaker, won first at Aberfoyle, over ten intermediate speakers. She will now go on to the county finals.

The grade 7 class at Ospringe have published their newspaper, "The Ospringe Star", and sold them at 10c each.
