Clergy Comment

by A. King

When one wishes to get it all together, one must first remember where it was put.

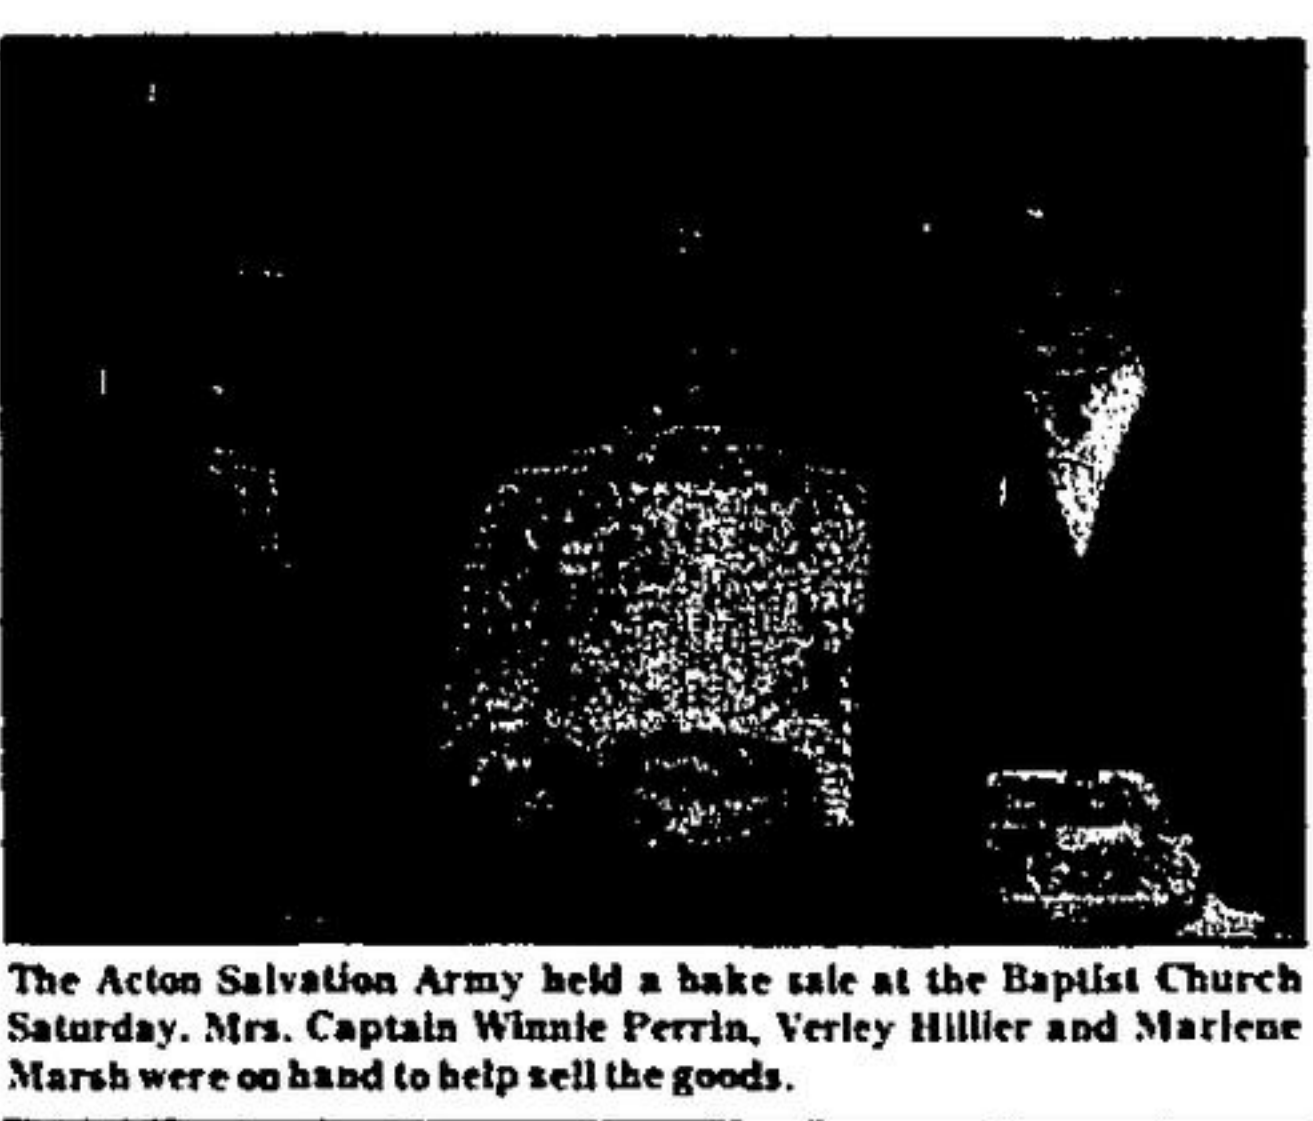

Many was the time when I was a reporter for a community newspaper such as this (ah, but that was some time ago) that I would find myself bent over a smoking typewriter furiously pounding out a story for a deadline that was already growing cold in its grave. I promised myself each time I did that that I would be more organized next time. I would Get It Together.

Along came another crack at university, at a higher level of learning yet, and I once again would often find myself (that wasn't so long ago, either) hunched over a burning typewriter while a deadline for an essay sank with a hiss and a gurgle. Well, I would still Get It Together, said I to myself. Said I.

Along came ministry. And here I sit, contorted over a typewriter keyboard the temperature of the sun's surface while the deadline for the Clergy Comment column gets entered in the Memories of Yesteryear file. Oh well.

At least it has taught me something all over again which everyone whom I have met needs to be reminded of once in a while. And that learning is that we can never quite Get It Together all by ourselves. It is a lonely, frustrating, and more often than not fruitless task. When life's trials expose the weaknesses and flaws that reside in all of us, we all feel the desire to patch ourselves up, sew together our loose ends, throw the decayed stuff away and get on with living a new life.

If only it were so easy. If only we could

The Acton Salvation Army held a bake sale at the Baptist Church Saturday. Mrs. Captain Winnie Perrin, Verley Hillier and Marlene Marsh were on hand to help sell the goods.

Legion happenings

by Harry Norton

Our regular March General meeting was held last Monday and while the turnout of members was a bit disappointing the members present were pleased to take part in the initiation of 17 new members and welcome them to the Branch.

The men's Darts league on Tuesday and the ladies on Wednesday this week will carry on as usual but this Friday the mixed Darts group takes a night off so that the Euchre group can play.

On Saturday "Hi Fi's" will provide the entertainment in the lounge and a Euchre and dance will be provided in the auditorium. The price is only $2, there will be $100 in prizes for the euchre running from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. and then "Tim Sky" will provide the music for your dancing pleasure. A number of Legions and other communities have given us rave reviews on the Tim Sky group so come on out and let us know how you like the music. Your entertainment chairman needs to know if this is the music that tickles your fancy.

With the snow all gone and more mild weather forecast your executive is starting to look to the outside grounds. Everybody seems pleased and proud of the changes made inside the Branch and now it is time for some volunteers to give their name to Fred Allen if they can spare a few hours this spring and summer to clean up our lawns and flower beds. With your help we will continue to have not only the best Branch in Ontario but the best looking one.

Osprige Guides on exchange

by Doris Flies

Last weekend the Osprige Guides participated in the first part of an exchange visit with the 12th Richmond Hill Guide Company, and spent some time touring Toronto. Using both bus and subway, and travelling on foot, the Guides from both groups visited Eaton Centre and the Royal Ontario Museum.

After a lunch break, they carried on to Casa Loma, and ended up at National Guide Headquarters, before heading back to Richmond Hill.

On Saturday evening they were joined by Brownies and more Guides, for an evening of games and songs. On Sunday morning, the Guides participated in a joint breakfast, before exchanging gifts and goodbyes with their new friends.

The visiting minister at Knox Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, was Wayne Allen. His sermon was on Anger Into Joy, bringing out that we must not ignore the sacrifice on the cross, that we may reach God only through His son Jesus Christ.

Byron and Blanche Bruce visited the College Royal at Guelph University on Sunday afternoon. They said there was a good response from the people, and the exhibits were terrific, noting there were such a number of interesting exhibits that a person needed more time to take them all in.

The Osprige Ladies Aid meeting took on an Irish cast, at the home of Flora Bruce, when Laura Stewart, in charge of the Devotional, read from The Glad Tidings, the story of Ireland, The Isle of Saints and Scholars. She also read an article on Loving His Appearing. The two hymns sung, were, Love Divine Oh Love Excelling, and Take Time to Be Holy.

The roll call was answered by naming a book I have read that I would recommend. Mildred Sinclair had the study book, from Genesis 22, verses 1 to 19.

Reta Kerns led the group in singing, with her guitar. Helen Crewson, in charge of the program, conducted a Bible quiz contest, which was won by Laura Stewart.

Churchill Missionary visits church

by Joanne Turner

The Churchill C.C.W. held their March meeting Tuesday evening March 8 at Joanne Turner's home 5 Sideroad. Mary Walsma had the worship, taking at her theme "Happy Today—Happy Tomorrow": practising happiness in daily living. After the minutes and treasurer's report had been heard and approved, there was a brief session.

Plans were made: to serve lunch for Muriel Stephenson's visit Wednesday evening; to visit Mapleview Lodge Nursing Home on March 17; and to purchase the usual Easter cards and plants for shut-ins. Andy Wyga, whose hobby is photography, displayed some lovely photos of local scenes: The Roll call, a verse from an autograph book, evoked much laughter and reminiscing. Eleanor Thompson presented a program of slides, some of special events at the church, and others showing interesting places she and Bill had visited.

Wednesday evening is the regular night for Churchill's Lenten Bible Study, but last Wednesday March 19 held a special treat. Rev. Jenkins brought with him from Toronto an old friend of Churchill congregation, Miss Muriel Stephenson. Many younger and newer members of the congregation knew Muriel Stephenson only as the name of a missionary in India to whom we sent a yearly contribution and received an answering airmail newsletter.

Muriel Stephenson in the flesh is a vibrant, knowledgeable personality, glowing with confidence in her Christian faith, love for her fellowman, and dedication to her calling. Her enthusiasm was contagious. She supervises two Christian hostels in Rattlam, India, which house 90 girls and 50 boys, aged 9 to 21 years, giving them an opportunity to gain an education, learn a trade or proceed to higher education. She had many stories to tell of her work there and the young people she works with. She sang a hymn in Indian dialect, accompanying herself on the violin. She also played for our enjoyment several familiar classical pieces.

Muriel Stephenson's father was minister at Churchill, Limehouse, and Glen Williams when she was young, and after that, at Barrie Hill, so she and her sisters, Isabel and Norma, grew up in the area. Lydia Kerr has kept in touch through the years, and Muriel spent the night at her home, returning to Toronto on Thursday.

Friends are sorry to hear that Wm. Thompson entered Guelph General Hospital Monday, suffering with kidney stones. X-rays are being taken to see if an operation will be necessary.

We are pleased to hear that Charlie Binnie is home from hospital and beginning to get around. He has been walking out for the paper, and around the yard to see if the tulips are up. His sister, Janet Binnie, is visiting from Earl Grey, Saskatchewan.

HELPING PARENTS:

In today's world, parents need all of the help they can get to carry out the command of God to teach their children the Word of God for all of life, every day, and all day. Few parents can fully accomplish the task in those time periods when they are together with their children. It is a very difficult mandate to fulfill. So, praise God for others, the teachers, who can complement parents' efforts as they (teachers) instruct our children in the Lord for several hours each day within Christian schools!
