

Questionnaire for Historical Walk

Have you ever walked down Main Street and wondered what it looked like fifty years ago. Or possibly wondered what family built Berwick Hall—the apartment building in the corner of Park Avenue and Main Street? or when you hear the "old Radial Station" mentioned, do you wonder where it was?

During the Pioneer Days celebration the Esquesing Historical Society will present a walking tour of downtown Georgetown. This will take place on Saturday, June 18 with John McDonald a founding member of the society, conducting the tour. John is the author of "Halton Sketches" an interesting account of some of the pioneer families of Georgetown.

The walk will begin promptly at 1.30 p.m. inside Knox Presbyterian Church. A slide show will give you a chance to see the downtown of the past before the actual walk.

We would like to invite those who take the tour to answer the following questions. At the end of the tour the first person to answer all five will receive a prize.

1. Knox Presbyterian Church—What year was it completed.
2. The McGibbon Hotel—What was it called in 1877?
3. The Birches—who was this home built for and in what year?
4. Canadian House Hotel—who owned and operated this hotel and where was it?
5. Berwick Hall—how did it get its name.

Linda Parker Globe president

Linda Parker was elected president of Georgetown Globe Productions at the third annual meeting.

Also elected to the executive were Terry Champ vice president, Lois Fraser treasurer, Betty Christie secretary, Gerry Eggleton finance, Linda Roe resident stage manager, Audrey Houston publicity, and Jack Ferguson past president.

Globe Productions have held a series of workshops covering many aspects of musical theatre. Management and administration, chorus acting, make-up, lighting, the upcoming one on costume design.

At the second annual dinner dance held last Saturday, a presentation was made to Alan Gotlib who is leaving his teaching post at Joseph Gibbons School for one in North York.

A general meeting, where anyone wishing to join the group is welcome, will be held June 21 at Stewarttown hall.

Sketching by Credit Valley Artisans a 1982 feature.

Sidewalk values always an attraction.
