Flea market is a sign of times

Kevin Roy, once a victim of a slack economy, is making those same economic conditions work for him.

Roy, who was laid off from his sales job at Dofasco Steel last fall, has opened a farm and flea market on Hwy. 7 just west of Crewson's Corners.

"I think it's a sign of the times that people are frequenting flea markets these days," Roy commented. "With economic conditions as they are, people are looking for bargains."

Roy is hoping his flea market, Eramosa Emporium, will grow as a country-style market with fresh fruit, vegetables, baked goods, cheese, antiques, odds and ends, and something the shopping centre flea markets don't have. Lots of fresh air.

Eramosa Emporium opened on Victoria Day Weekend, and already it has attracted city people as well as local customers and bargain hunters. He has six regular vendors at the market, and is aiming for 30 booths indoors and eventually a few more tables outdoors.

The market is currently open Saturdays and Sundays, and finding customers is no problem. "There's a lot of weekend traffic rolling past on Hwy. 7." With indoor facilities, he added, the flea market can become a year-round operation.

Flea market operations have been a family activity. Roy's father-in-law has also operated a flea market business for years. When the facilities on Hwy. 7 became available, Kevin jumped at the opportunity.

Once the flea market is established, Roy will also set up a propane refilling station for trailers and cars, open seven days a week.

Ebenezer

Rev. Finley is retiring

by Mrs. R. McLean
Come and enjoy fresh strawberries Thursday night.

Next Sunday, at 11, Arkell, Eden Mills and Ebenezer meet at Eden Mills Park for a joint service, picnic and farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Russel Finley, who have served this pastorate faithfully since 1967. They are retiring to Guelph, with best wishes from their many friends. In case of rain, the event will be held in the community hall.

Communion was observed on Sunday. Elizabeth Anne

Koehler was confirmed in church membership. Marion Diamond presented Lois Beaton with a UCW life member's pin. The Beaton family, who are moving to RR 3, Crysler will be much missed.

Hank and Audrey Weldeman were in Newfoundland, to attend the funeral of Audrey's aunt.

There will be no church services the first two Sundays in July. On July 17, our new minister Rev. Sam Wigston, will be in charge.

Anniversary service fills church Sunday

by Doris Fies
The church was full on Sunday morning for the anniversary service of Knox Presbyterian. Rev. Wayne Allen spoke on Sin and No-fault Religion, in which he said, no matter who we are, we are in need of forgiveness. The musical messages were also rewarding. Rev. Milligan sang two solos. The Graham sisters, Beth, Elaine and Colleen, favored with two numbers, as did the Friendly Four Quartette, then the trio and quartette combined for a couple of numbers.

Byron Bruce, on behalf of the church, accepted from Cub leader Peter Dubeau, a certificate of appreciation to the sponsors of the Ospringe Scout and Cub Pack. Refreshments were served in the basement of the church, where everyone enjoyed a friendly get-together.

Thirty-Four Cubs and 16 leaders from Ospringe, Hillsburgh and Erin, ended their Cubbing season with a three day weekend camp at Bass Lake, near Orillia. This tri-pack camp was a success, and the Cubs enjoyed night games, fishing and a scavenger hunt. Hiking and tin foil dinners were also enjoyed by the Cubs.

The following weekend, the Ospringe Guides concluded their exchange visit with the Richmond Hill Guides, when they joined together in a combined weekend camp, at the United Church Camp ground in Milton. There were 39 Guides in this group, with eight leaders, and they spent the weekend cooking on open fires, having water fights, and exploring the surrounding area. Despite the heat, the weekend camp was a success. I accompanied the Erin United Church Women on a bus trip to Toronto on June 13. Denny's bus took us all to the United Church Publishing House, where we were conducted on a tour of the building. I cannot begin to describe here, all the rooms and what they are used for, but to me, the most interesting room was the chapel. People drop in here off the street for private devotion, as well as the people who work in the building. Everything in the chapel was donated when the building was erected. The stained glass windows, 7 panels, depict the message and mission of the church.

The organ screen, a gift from the architect who designed the building, has twelve symbols, each signifying one of the apostles. The cross at the front is a memorial to Rev. S. Dwight Chown, who should be recognized as the father of the United Church of Canada. He devoted his life to bring it about, the first major union in Christendom. The Chown cross is mounted over the Dossal curtain which was made by church women of Korea. Tons of used nylon stockings were shipped to Korea, and the women there unravelled, respun and rewove the nylon threads to make beautiful tapestry. It provided work for a lot of people, and they sent the curtain to say thanks for the nylons. This building was completed in 1958.

Following the tour here, we had dinner at St. Matthews United Church, provided by the ladies there, who took us on a tour through their large church. As we began our homeward way on the bus, we spied Mrs. Eva MacKay walking along the street. We called and yelled, but she couldn't hear us. The trip was a pleasant and educational outing.

Churchill

All ages had fun at Sunday school picnic

by J. Turner
Churchill's annual Sunday School picnic held Sunday June 12 was blessed with the best of summer weather. Following morning service, the members of the Congregation and Sunday School boarded a bus, courtesy Denny Bus Lines, and travelled to Kelso Park. An area was chosen that afforded a beautiful view of escarpment and lake, and provided a refreshing breeze and shade for the tables, and a sunlit open area for the activities.

After a bountiful pot-luck picnic, Sunday School Superintendent Shirley Swackhamer supervised the program. She was ably assisted by her teaching staff, Margaret, Patricia, and Gerry Donnell, and by Jan Soutere who had special games for the tiny tots. Prizes had been generously donated by Mrs. Edith Storey. Everyone was soon drawn into the fun, which ended with a game of donkey baseball with no donkeys, but lots of handicapping rules for adult players. Then there was time for a walk or a rest before the bus left for home, with most of us sporting the first sunburns of this cool, wet, spring.

Churchill C.C.W. met Tuesday, June 14 at the home of Mrs. Olga Thompson, Poplar Cresc. President Mrs. Edith Storey opened the meeting with a poem, "The Test of Love." Mrs. Lydia Kerr based her worship theme on the story of Nicodemus. The roll call was an interesting one with each member showing their wedding picture. Business discussed included plans for a strawberry social to be held July 9 at the church. Last year's menu had been simple and popular: a generous serving of strawberries, ice cream and whipped cream on a large split tea biscuits and a beverage. It was decided to do the same this year.

The program provided by Mary Walsma and Joanne Turner, consisted of three contests. The third proved most fun: a "musical romance" with musical experts from old-fashioned songs providing the clues to details of the "romance." We sang the songs as the answers to the contest were revealed. Mrs. Edith Storey and Olga Thompson served a dainty and delicious lunch to bring the meeting to a close.

Churchill C.C.W. visited Mapleview Lodge nursing home last Monday evening, June 13. Mrs. Olga Thompson played the piano accordion to accompany the singing of favorite hymns and old-fashioned songs. Then the residents and CCW members enjoyed a friendly chat over a cool drink and dishes of ice-cream and cake.

Please note that the time for Sunday morning worship at Churchill has changed to the regular summer hours of 10:30 a.m. Rev. Jenkins will be preaching most Sundays, and there are at present no plans for church holidays.
