

The Home of Assurance

For ALL Insurance Needs

CALL

• LILY • JULIE • PATTI • IRENE • RICK

West Insurance Ltd.

for further details

877-5113

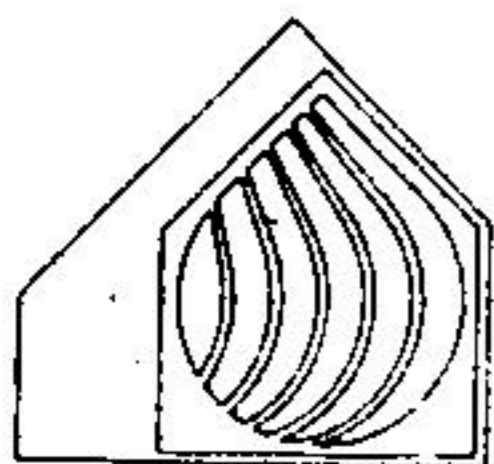

8 Wesleyan Street, Georgetown

What is the least expensive way to reduce the cost of heating your home with oil?

Research shows that with a combination of heating system improvement and home energy conservation you can reduce your fuel oil consumption by up to 35% — and you won't break the bank doing it.

As well, you still enjoy the friendly personal service you expect from your oil dealer.

Call your local independent oil dealer for your copy of 'Energy Conservation and Your Oil Heated Home' — a complete illustrated guide to saving money on energy in your oil heated home.

BOEHMERS

Always Glad to Help

the Home Energy Group dedicated to home energy conservation

McDonald's & You™

Mad scientists unite

Be a mad scientist! The Acton and Georgetown libraries are continuing their Tuesday morning Mad Scientist Club, when different speakers visit and try to encourage children's interest in science.

On Tuesday July 26 beginning at 10.30 a.m. a representative from the Royal Ontario Museum will visit to speak about Cosmic Snowballs, the story of the Comet Halley. Because of the nature of the subject, children must be eight years or older.

Registration is required for all programs and each costs .50c. For more details, phone 877-2681.

Mysticism of the New Testament

Beginning September 20, a ten-week course featuring the Mysticism of the New Testament with Dr. Paul Hourihan will be available at the Georgetown library.

The course is designed to study the hidden mysticism in the New Testament and will be non-denominational. The nature of the mystical consciousness will be explored, the practice of meditation and the life of inwardness will be discussed. The Sermon on the Mount and other mystical utterances of Jesus in Matthew, most of St. John's Gospel and selections from the Epistles of Paul will be examined.

For more information, call 877-1121. Registration is needed before September 1.

Give the breath of life

Are you puzzled about what to do this summer?

Why not give the "breath of life" and have a carnival for cystic fibrosis? It's lots of fun and can be a learning project as well.

For a complete list of details, phone 853-0482.

See Quebec City....

St. George's Anglican Church is sponsoring a tour of Quebec City and Eastern townships. The bus leaves Friday, September 2 and returns on Monday, September 5.

Accommodation is at the Maison Rivier, near Magog. Cost is $150 per person. Call 877-8044 for more information.

Mountsberg Wildlife Centre

Mountsberg Wildlife Centre invites anyone interested to picnic in the park. Take a walk through fields, forests, and swamps on 10 km of hiking trails, visit farm animals or inquire about Mountsberg's Bird Management program.

Cost is $3 per car or $25 per bus.

Learn at Terra Cotta!

Looking for something to do with the kids now they're home for the summer?

The weekly interpretive program at the Terra Cotta Conservation Area may have the answer. Every week until August 25, Terra Cotta interpretive staff is offering nature arts and crafts programs, a film night and a nature series.

The interpretive program is open to campers and area day-users of all ages. The interpretive program is sponsored by the Credit Valley Conservation Authority. For more information, call 877-9650.

Family Farm Festival

Plowing by steam and gas, grain binding, sawmilling, threshing, fanning mills and demonstrations of crafts will all be featured at The Farm's family farm festival on August 12, 13 and 14 in Milton.

For more information about the events at Fourth Line in Milton, call Sherwood Hume at 878-4878.

Sports Camp

Softball, tennis, basketball, and swimming are some of the sports offered at the Erindale College Children's Summer Sports Camp, for children aged six to 12 years old.

Starting Monday July 25 to Friday, August 19, there will be four one week sessions between 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. Cost of each is $60 per child.

Phone 828-5268 for more information.

For single parents

Halton Hills Community Legal Clinic is hosting a single parents drop-in centre every Tuesday from 10 a.m. until noon at St. George's Church on Guelph Street.

Anyone is welcome to come in for a chat or free legal advice. For more information, call Noell Jefferson at 877-5256.

VON volunteer service

The Victorian Order of Nurses has started a volunteer Friendly Visitor Service, but in order to make it work, it needs volunteers.

The region-wide service is designed to aid lonely or ill elderly people. Call 878-5773 if you are interested in being a volunteer.

Crawford Lake

Crawford lake is introducing a new summer program consisting of guided walks, demonstrations, special events and a simulated dig for family groups.

Or just come to relax and enjoy nature's wonders.

Picnic areas are available adjacent to the free parking. Phone 878-4131 for more information.

McDonald's & You™

