

HRCF seeks Royal visit

Queen Elizabeth will be asked to officially open Crawford Lake during her visit to Canada next summer.

The Queen will be here to celebrate Ontario's bicentennial, and officials of the Halton Region Conservation Foundation are very much hoping she will accept the invitation to open Canada's oldest and most accurately dated Indian village.

Louise Hebb, chairman of the foundation, said initial contact has already been made with the office of protocol, mayors in Halton have been requested to provide letters of support.

"We are hoping a combined effort from across the region will get her here," said Mrs. Hebb, adding a formal application will be made in the near future.

"I think it would be especially wonderful for the school children of this area," she said, noting youngsters across the region have raised more than $13,000 for the interpretative centre and Indian village, due to begin construction in the spring.

To date a total of $280,000 has been raised for the project, (this includes a $125,000 Wintario grant and donated services) and Mrs. Hebb said the Queen's decision to visit the Campbellville site would no doubt greatly aid the fundraising drive.

25 MILLION UNITS OF BLOOD

Twenty-five million units—more than 11 million litres of blood! That's the amount of blood that generous Canadians have donated since the Canadian Red Cross began its Blood Transfusion Service in 1947.

How Much Of Your House Is Really Insured?

You might be shocked to find out.

Inflation and fluctuating real estate values have a way of reducing your insurance protection — unless your policy is constantly up-dated.

Then there are questions of land value, house foundations and the cost of removal and re-building.

To find out where you stand talk to the I.B.A.O. insurance broker listed below.

Is there a difference between an I.B.A.O. broker and an agent?

Yes there is. An agent works directly for one insurance company. An I.B.A.O. broker is independent and unbiased.

Your broker is able to choose a policy that gives you the right coverage at the right price, making sure you're not under-insured or over-insured and that your interests are well represented when you come to making a claim.
