

The entertainment bargain of the year

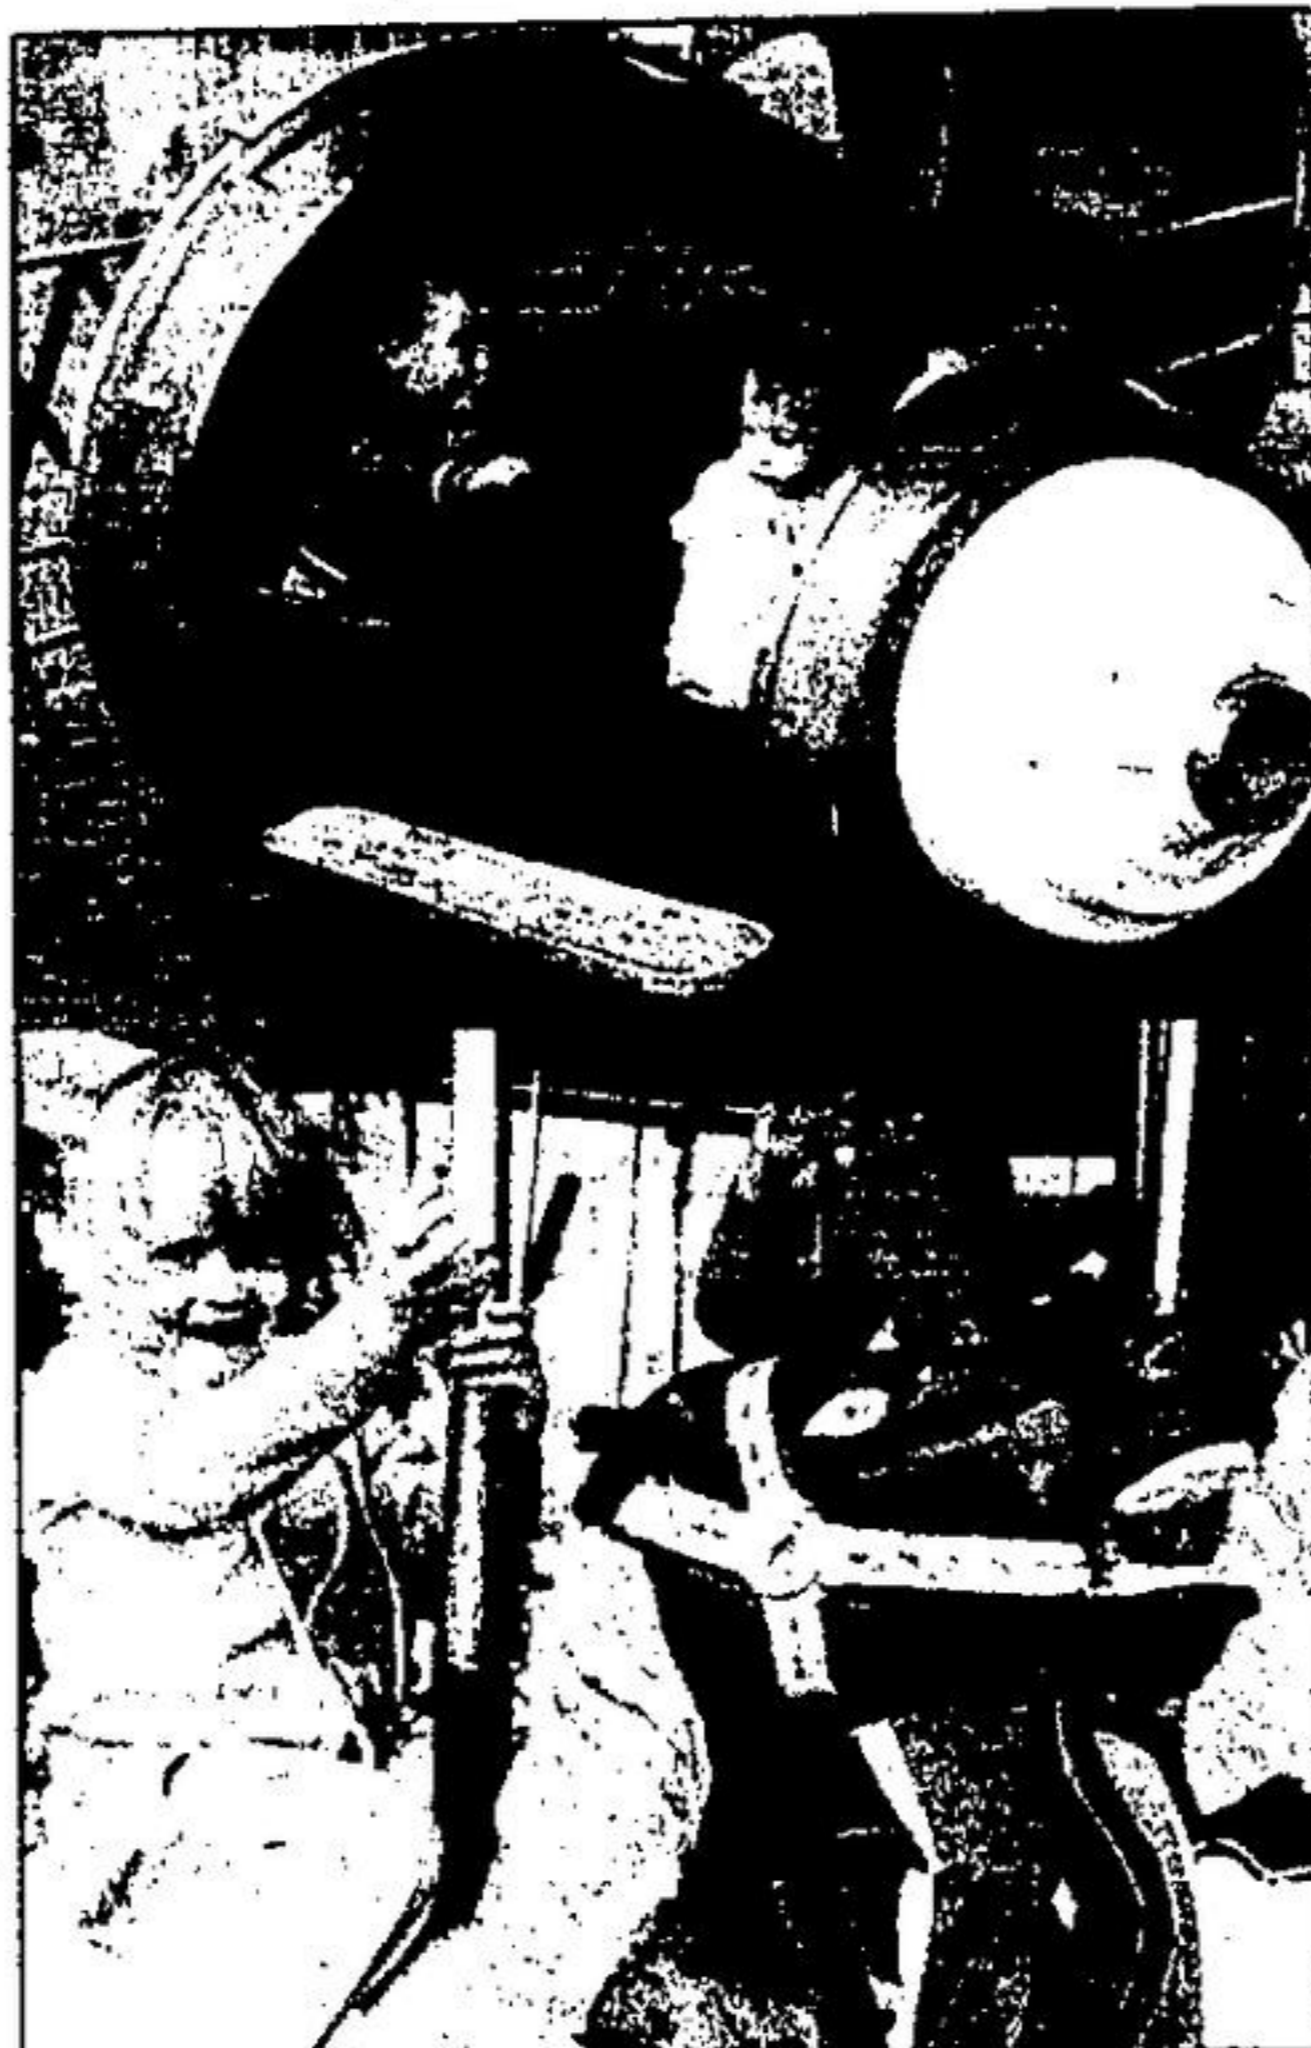

Fair '83

An Acton area resident placed third in the 1 to 2 year-old gelding class.

Norman Craigle of Rockwood entered this steer in the open steer competition.

There were lots of fun rides at the fair.

Marjorie Saunders and her championship quilt.

Keith Lamont of Acton displayed one of his Suffolk sheep in the fair.

Photos by:
Mark Holmes,
Ted Brown,
Helen Murray
and Gord Murray

The rooster crowing contest had to be moved into the beer tent Friday night, but still attracted a big crowd.

Peter and Jackie Lister were a leopard and a ring master and their dog Laddie a clown for the pet show best costume contest.

Irene Swackhamer checks out the hobbies and crafts.

Tractor and 4 x 4 pull action drew on enthusiastic audience.

Many trotter horses were entered in competitions over the weekend.

Readying the model boats for a run.

Horses of all types were at the fair.

Heavy horses pull their weight.

One of the more popular midway attractions.

Lloyd Ziegler of Acton pitched for a ringer in the Fall Fair Games.

Jason Fisher entered his dog Butterfly in the pet show.

Debble and Sheena Butler of Limehouse enjoyed the fair.

Kevin Logan of Acton showed off one of his Netherland Dwarf rabbits in Sunday's rabbit show.

Laura Anderson, 9, of Acton led her halter class pony into competition Saturday morning.

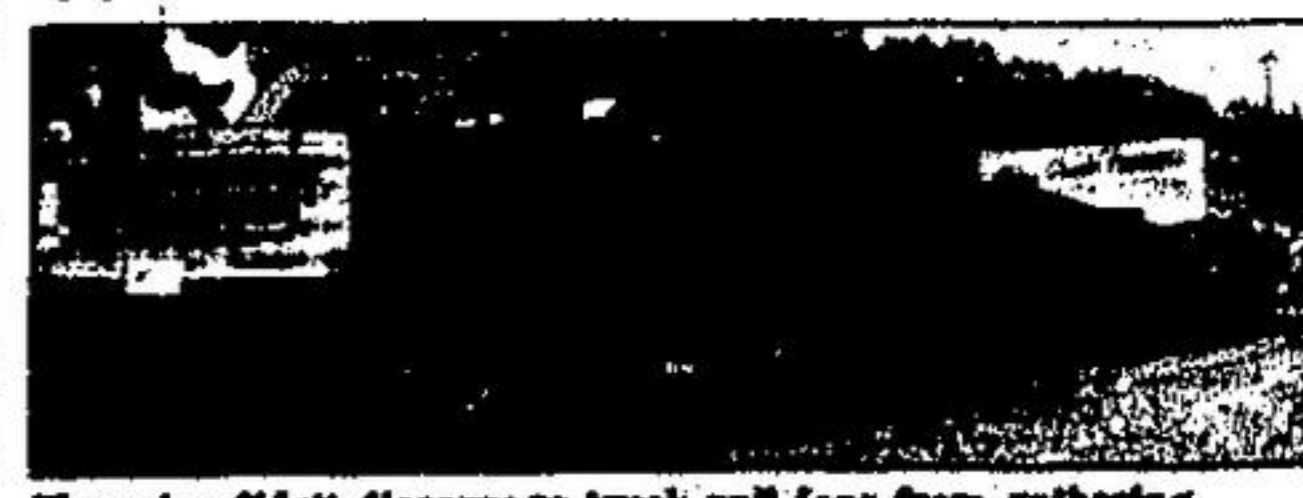

Urging your rooster in the crowing contest Friday night.

Sheep judging.

Jody Eaton and Anne Franklin look over some of Anne's work from Speyside School.

The rains didn't discourage truck pull fans from gathering.