

Marie Arbie stands by two vintage rifles on display at the Acton Library this month. The display, entitled Lock, Stock and Barrel, is a circulating exhibition produced from collections of the Canadiana Department at the Royal Ontario Museum. The exhibition is circulated in co-operation with Outreach Ontario and it was planned to appear in area libraries in conjunction with the province's bicentennial celebrations. According to Ann Irvin, co-ordinator of Adult Programs at Halton Hills libraries, the exhibit will remain at the Acton library until the end of February.

Rockwood

Village revving up for winter carnival

by Barbara Funk
The Baha'is of Rockwood will be presenting a concert in a "coffee house" sitting at the Town Hall on Saturday January 28 from 8 p.m.-10 p.m. The musicians for the evening will be Doug Cameron, Gordie Munro and Marg Raynor. There will be an admission charge of $1 per person.
Also that day the Lions will be operating their monthly dance at Rockmosa Centre from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The music (with a country flavor) for this dance will be provided by Jack Reeves. Tickets are still $10 per couple and can be purchased from any Lion.
Registration for the 1984 Kindergarten classes will be held on Friday February 10 at Rockwood Centennial School in the auditorium. To be eligible, a child must be five years of age by December 31, 1984. If an application form is required, please call the school at 856-9662.
All the area groups are going to be busy for the next month preparing for the First Rockmosa Winter Carnival. The celebration is to begin on Friday afternoon, February 24 and run to Sunday evening.

All activities will be at the Rockmosa Centre grounds.
On Friday afternoon the Sunshine Club is going to help get the festivities underway with a euchre. In the evening, there is to be a bingo in the hall. Meanwhile, outside, those hardier souls, can skate on the outdoor rink, or work on a snow sculpture.
Also during the evening the Christmas tree burning will be held.
Saturday will see more skating, plus, dog races, horse drawn sleigh rides, log sawing, a farmers walk, cross-country skiing and much more. The Lions will have their dance at night.
Throughout the weekend there will be booths with warm food and drinks.
On Sunday morning the Lionettes will hold the community breakfast. At noon the judging for the best in the snow sculpturing will be held.
During the afternoon, a snowmobile rally and rides are on the schedule. Its going to be a busy weekend for everyone.

Obituary

Ella Mae Gibbons

Funeral service was held November 22 for Ella Mae Gibbons, a former Acton resident, who died in Guelph General Hospital November 18.

Mrs. Gibbons, of Guelph, was born on February 12, 1914, in Orangeville, and was a VON homemaker. On November, 1932, she married Frank Gibbons in Acton and the two spent most of their married life living in Guelph and Acton.

Left to mourn her loss are her husband, Frank; children,

Garry of Mississauga, Peter, Burnaby, B.C., and Delaine, Nanaimo, B.C., and brothers Joseph and Herb, both of Guelph. She was predeceased by a son, Paul.

Father Don Sanvido officiated at the funeral in Acton. Pallbearers were friends Bruce Gowan, Gary Poot, George Longo, Larry Brown and nephews Frank Spielvogel and Joe Woods.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

Obituary

John Roy Young

After a lengthy illness John Roy Young of 87 Lake Ave. died at his home on January 8.

Mr. Young is survived by his brothers Alex, Austin and Harvey as well as his two sisters Ethel Radcliff and Nellie Weick, all of Acton.

Mr. Young was born in Watt Township in Muskoka to William Andrew Young and Sarah Bunn and he attended Beatrice school there. For many years Mr. Young farmed on the Fourth Line of Esquesing and he was a member of the Knox Presbyterian Church. He has lived on Lake Ave. for 20 years.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Donald Matheson, January 11, and interment was at the Fairview Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Clark Armstrong, Douglas Mason, Grant Allan, William Nelles, Clarence Coles and Stan Morrison.
