

Commission off
Members of the Halton Hills Hydro Electric Commission will be attending the annual AMEU/OMEA convention in Toronto February 26 to 28.
Commissioners and their spouses will be staying at the Royal York Hotel, checking in Sunday, and coming home Tuesday.
Commissioners will also be attending an engineering and operations workshop at the Sheraton Centre, Toronto from March 26 to 29.

Use wrong seal

Halton Hills Hydro has been using the wrong seal since its inception five years ago. Commissioners were notified by their lawyers recently that their seal had to be changed from Hydro Electric Commission of the Town of Halton Hills to Halton Hills Hydro Electric Commission.

A special motion was passed Friday so all business with the improper seal was official and did not need to come back to the commission table for re-sealing.

OK renovations

No more than $1,750 will be spent for renovations to the meter department of the Georgetown Halton Hills Hydro office.
General Manager Jerry Trudell told Hydro Commissions Friday that two new offices are needed to house personnel and three quotes ranged from $1,750 to $3,000. Wooden studding will be used, he explained and panelling will be installed by Hydro staff.
