Many people go through life lamenting the lack of bumps in the right places. But, let me tell you from first hand experience that a couple of bumps I acquired on my last fishing trip can leave me alone any time, along with trips to the local physicians.

Probably the greatest loss to me was missing out on the weekend of Bow fishing, not to mention a lot of pride.

I fell down some steps and really messed up my face. Well, I bruise easily and heal quickly, so better luck next week.

The early fishing got into high gear on the past weekend when Junior Tibbits of Georgetown fished the Potawami River in Owen Sound, limiting out in Rainbows. The largest fish taken was 16 pounds. Junior tells me that the best part of the trip was the fact that only one other angler was working that piece of river.

Water levels have dropped drastically due to cold weather at Georgian Bay. This has slowed down any runs of fish to river mouths. However, fishing should be good for anyone brave enough to fish the open bays.

One local angler, Keith Pollock from Georgetown, has the best answer for snow storms, sleet and frozen hands, not to mention other painful extremities.

Mr. Pollock went on a vacation in Acapulco and while there joined a charter trip out for Billfish. He landed a sailfish which weighed in at 120 pounds. What a way to make a great holiday greater and a vacation that will never be forgotten.

The Ontario ministry for fisheries has finally started to take notice of the complaints of many anglers about the incidental catches allowed commercial fishermen.

They are now imposing a few restrictions. Supposedly it will now be mandatory to report all fish taken and no incidental catches may be sold. Well, taking all things into consideration, not much will change. No commercial fisherman will likely report one quarter of their catch anyway so they can avoid paying income tax and show a business loss.

Have a good day.

WANT TO APPEAL YOUR ASSESSMENT?

You still have time to appeal your 1983 assessment if you feel your home or business property has been improperly assessed.

Your assessment is important because the amount of property tax you pay depends on it, in that the assessed value of your property is multiplied by your municipal and school mill rate to determine your 1984 property taxes.

Notices of Assessment have been mailed to property owners and tenants whose assessments have changed since last year. Open houses have been held in your area to answer questions and amend assessment information if necessary. Open house dates and locations were announced in a previous advertisement.

The Assessment Roll has now been delivered to your municipality for the purposes of calculating the amount of taxes you must pay on your property in 1984. For information on your assessment, the Assessment Roll is now available for review at your Municipal Office during regular business hours. If you feel your property has been improperly assessed, and you have not yet made your appeal known, you still have until March 7 to deliver or mail an appeal to the Assessment Review Board. And remember, even if you did not receive a Notice of Assessment, you still have the right to appeal.

Appeal deadline—March 7, 1984

The Assessment Review Board is an impartial body reporting to the Attorney General of Ontario, which provides you with an additional opportunity to have your assessment reviewed if, in your opinion, it is not fair and equitable with similar properties in your area. The Review Board is more informal and relaxed than a regular court of law. You may present your own case, retain a lawyer or ask a relative or friend to speak as your agent.

To help you in filing your appeal, Notice of Appeal forms are available from the Assessment Review Board, your Regional Assessment Office or your Municipal Office. As well, you can use the reverse side of a Notice of Assessment or write a letter stating the property address and roll number, together with your reasons for appealing. Appeals should be forwarded to the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board listed below.
