

Out doors

by George Hoare

Charlie Attard of Marsh Live Bait and Taxidermy held open house on March 3 and 4, during those two days a lot of fun was had and several films were shown. One film on salmon fishing shown by Dale Wood took three hours and I must say that big salmon were on the lines at all times. Highlight of this show was a 58 minute battle between Dale and a bottom hugging salmon that was determined not to come top side despite the pumping action from Dale's hefty rod. Dale was relieved when it finally came top side and over the net hoop.

I myself run some films off on trapping with Johnny Usher of Huntsville as the star; we had a good day with much fur to pay for our trouble. My other films were on goose hunting on the James Bay flats, plus speckled trout fishing Northwest of Cochrane in the Bad River. The latter was a fly in trip.

Lloyd Reid took over at this point with a film taken on Derby Day at the Halton Hills Trout Club. It was packed with action as over 300 trout were caught. Charlie Attard and his family served us all with a good lunch to end a good day.

Sportsmen's Show
The above, of course, was just a primer for the big Sportsmen's show we attended to-day. Right now I'm heading for bed as we leave early in the morning.

Today was a good day at the show and George Hall drove us home in good time so I'm pecking away at this printing machine even if it is Saturday night. A record crowd attended the show today despite the weather. Some people I talked to said it was the best one yet and I had to agree.

Lloyd Reid, Frank Logan and George Hall were just super in regards to helping us at our display. John Harrington's paintings were a highlight with everyone. The live trout also caught every one's eye especially the 15-inch albino rainbow John Harrington has had for two years.

So Enjoy the Outdoors, Safe Journey,
and Tight Lines
till your hear from me again
