Cancer campaign chairperson Gloria Coats, left and her vice Roselle Colbeck were on hand to raise the flag denoting the beginning of Cancer Month.

Bannockburn WI Dairy Princess guest

by E. Medland
Despite the bad weather there was a good turnout of members and guests at the home of Anne Hollis for the March meeting of Bannockburn Women's Institute.
Linda Cairns opened the meeting with a poem about the mechanical workings of a cow. The February meeting of this WI was cancelled and instead we held a euchre at the home of Edna Hall.
At the March meeting roll calls were answered on "name a dairy product and how to use it" and "an outstanding meeting I recall." Many tasty recipes were passed along to members, and as well all agreed, we try to make all of our meetings outstanding.
Mrs. Lucy Wrens told us about the Kidney Foundation of Canada and a donation was given to the local branch. Since April is Cancer month canvassing kits were handed out at the meeting.
Our speaker for the evening was Laura Marshall, Halton's Dairy Princess. She gave us a very interesting talk on "In support of agriculture."
The meeting closed with Anne Hollis and Bertha Fox serving refreshments.

Inn plans on hold
A proposed inn by Stone Barn Holdings has been put on hold until the approval of the Rockwood Secondary Plan, according to Eramosa Township Clerk Lloyd Hindley.
Hindley explained the plan has been three or four years in the making and it could be some time before it is approved. In the meantime, not too much can be done about the proposal for the 100 room inn on the Eramosa River in Rockwood.
