

Sweet idea

When substituting honey for sugar in jelly making, a commercial pectin should be used to achieve good results, says Monica Beaumont, a food and nutrition specialist with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food's rural organizations and services branch.

Blood is needed EVERY DAY

Save energy

Run the cleaning cycle of self-cleaning ovens early in the day or late in the evening when demand on electrical systems is low, says Margaret Loewen, clothing and textiles specialist with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food's rural organizations and services branch.

Wardrobe update

Silhouettes will be simple this spring, with geometric and wedge shapes and broader shoulders, says Margaret Loewen, clothing and textiles specialist with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food's rural organizations and services branch.

Jumpsuits are also making a comeback for spring and hats continue to be an important accessory. Rain suits and rain separates in exciting colors and new finishes have created a whole new fashion area to add to your wardrobe.
