

Clergy Comment

by Rev. Jean Stairs
 Leaders of several Canadian churches have issued jointly a letter inviting people in Canada to participate in a special day of prayer and fasting on Friday, April 13. Here is the main thrust of the letter.
 "Amid the fear and anxiety created in the hearts of many people by the threat of nuclear war, Christians are called to bear witness to a hope that is firmly rooted in their faith. This hope is not founded in some naive optimism, but in God revealed in Jesus Christ.
 God in Christ encountered the tragic and sinful forces present in our world. These same forces continue to be sources of violence and oppression, immortality and injustice, but we do not despair... we can choose life over death. But for this to happen we must not only speak about the "Peace of God", we must also work for peace.
 If we dare to speak and act for God... we have great need to listen with care to our God. Therefore, we invite all men and women of goodwill to participate in a special day of prayer and fasting on Friday, April 13.
 May men and women everywhere be touched by the peace of Christ and offer it to one another as a sign of hope in our troubled times."
 Signed by representatives from the Anglican, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Catholic, United and Baptist churches of Canada, as well as the president of the Canadian Council of Churches.

Dawn Welch received the Girl Guides of Canada All Round Cord award, the highest award in the Girl Guide organization.

3 grass fires all have same cause

Volunteer firefighters were called out to three grass fires on Sunday, all of which started in exactly the same way.
 Deputy fire chief Bob Hyde said in all three cases, the person in charge was burning garbage and the fire got out of control. He pointed out under the Ontario Fire Code it is illegal to conduct burning. Charges can be laid, with the court determining the fine.
 The first fire, at Lot 16, Con. 2, Halton Hills was at 11.38 a.m., with the next call to Lot 32, Con. 7 Milton, at 11.59 a.m. The third grass fire was at Lot 29, Con. 6 at 3.05 p.m.

Police hear two conflicting stories

Faced with conflicting accounts from the two drivers involved, police laid no charges after a collision April 2 at 8.40 p.m. near the intersection of 15 Sideroad and the town line. There were no witnesses when a car driven by a 52-year-old RR 5 Milton man and a vehicle driven by a 38-year-old RR 4 Acton man struck one another from oncoming lanes. Neither driver nor three young passengers in one car were injured.

Van strikes tree

A 30-year-old RR 2 Rockwood woman suffered minimal injuries April 2 at 5.15 p.m. when her van went out of control on Mill St. near Dury Rd. The van's left front wheel entered the roadside ditch. The driver managed to bring the vehicle back onto the roadway but could not maintain control and struck a tree on the east side. Damage was estimated at $850.

Meanderings

by Mabel Barkman
 Why is it that we never seem to hear about the dangers of consuming certain things until years after we have used it?
 The vanilla I had been using for nearly five years, a gift from a neighbor who had been to Mexico, evidently contains a toxic ingredient, coumarin, banned in the U.S. for 30 years! It was with regret that I poured the remaining half down the sink. The last sentence in the article rather frightened me, "the person who takes a little gamble that the amount of coumarin in the bottle isn't enough to be toxic is playing with loaded dice." Evidently too much of this substance damages the liver.
 We only hope that our livers can recover from any damage that small amounts of vanilla have inflicted on us over the years!

Failed to stop

Two young passengers escaped injury last Wednesday about supertime when the car they were riding in was struck by another which failed to stop for a red light at Mill and Main Streets in Acton.
 A 27-year-old Hamilton man was charged after his car struck a pick-up driven by Stephen Goy, 34, of RR 2, Acton.
 Both drivers received minor injuries, but Goy's daughter Lee Anne, 6, and another passenger, Darla Dale, 8, were not injured.

Name weed inspector

Keith Leslie is returning for another term as Halton Hills weed inspector.
 He received a five per cent raise to $4,588 as well as $100 to cover out of town calls to contact absentee land owners.
 Councillor John McDonald objected to the fact Leslie doesn't take calls from councillors.
 Engineer Robert Austin said this policy was instituted after a councillor (unnamed) abused the privilege of calling the weed inspector. Councillors reporting weeds isn't the purpose of the Noxious Weed Act the weed inspector enforces.
 Since weed cutting disputes can wind up before a tribunal the Town must hear from the property owners complaining about weeds on other properties. Austin explain it has been a problem when councillors call on behalf of constituents and then won't report who the person is who is complaining about weeds.
 McDonald said councillors should be able to refer concerns and complaints from residents to the weed inspector.
 Austin said not having councillors contact the weed inspector was "easier for him and me." He added the calls McDonald was referring to were "simple situations," but others aren't.
