in GLT play

Ron Hunt, who plays Norman Thayer in Georgetown Little Theatre's "On Golden Pond" will age many years to match Norman's 80 (when the show opens on April 27). Ron brings to the role his many years of experience in amateur theatre and an understanding of Normans character gleaned from weeks of character study of the role.

The list of productions Ron has acted in or on over the past 21 years with Georgetown Little Theatre is long, covering more than 50 shows. He was also a member of the original Globe Productions and, worked in seven shows staged from 1961 to 1968. Ron lived and worked in Vienna for 2 years where his love of theatre led him to Amerikhaus, a group in which he both acted and directed. As a lover of musicals, Ron continues a longtime membership in the Brampton Musical society. He has a love for all children apparent through his devotion to their entertainment both in pantomime and as GLTs much loved clown who entertains so many youngsters every year at the Fall Fair. Ron won a THEA for Special Effects in the 1981 production of 'Dracula,' and has been nominated for several other awards.

'On Golden Pond' runs April 27, 28, May 2, 3, 4, and 5. The box office at the John Elliott Theatre will be open on April 19, 24 and 26 from 12.30 to 2.00 p.m. and 7.00 to 8.00 p.m. each day. Tickets may also be ordered by telephoning 877-3700.
