

Chris Lobsinger and Josie DeVirgilio are Danny and Sandy in "Grease."

This week thru the lens

A few of the male cast members of "Grease" swing to the music as they practice some of the songs for the show scheduled for May 10, 11, and 12.

Steve Rosenquist belts out a few lines at a practice last week for the high school production of "Grease."

Jill Morris runs up and down a few scales as she practices for her part in the high school production "Grease."

John Winiarz is playing the drums in the "Grease" band as part of the high school's production.

Twenty-eight cast members and fifteen technical crew are busy at Acton high polishing their lines and setting up the stage for the popular production of "Grease". The show will be performed May 10, 11 and 12 at 8 p.m.

Andreas Thiel is the pianist for the high school musical production of "Grease."

Traffic signals cost $11,027

Most drivers take working traffic signals pretty much for granted, but not Halton Hills. This year the Town will spend $11,027 operating and maintaining traffic signals, but the municipality will get $7,849 back from the province. These figures come from the recently passed Halton Hills budget for 1984. Power alone for the traffic lights will cost $5,257 and $5,500 is budgeted for repairs and maintenance. The budget calls for $1,050 to be spent on flares and barricades for the works department this year. The crossing guard program in Halton Hills is expected to cost $69,210 in 1984. All but $500 of this budget is for crossing guard wages.

Meanderings

by Mabel Barkman
Ask a young person today if he or she knows what a blotter is and in all probability there will be a blank stare. How quickly things we take for granted have disappeared. Someone mentioned at dinner one evening that he had found a blotter and was saving it. Today, I rummaged through some old papers and found three. With the invention of the ballpoint pen the need for a blotter disappeared. If a ballpoint pen lets out too much ink today the tip of a Kleenex usually dries it quite nicely. Something else that seems to have disappeared too are tallies for playing two tables of bridge. Can it be that the video games are taking over from bridge?

$153,572 for street lighting

With $153,572 budgeted for street lighting in Acton and Georgetown this year, residents won't be in the dark. Keeping Acton's streets lighted is expected to cost the Town $50,016 this year. According to the recently approved municipal budget for 1984 hydro for Acton street lights will cost $25,166. Repairs and maintenance of lights is budgeted to cost $10,000 and $14,850 will be spent upgrading the lighting system in Acton. The tab for power for Georgetown's street lights will be $54,900. Repairs and maintenance are pegged to cost $30,000 and $18,656 is to be spent upgrading Georgetown's lighting system. Acton and Georgetown taxpayers pay a separate urban service charge to pay for street lighting, rural residents don't pay this charge.
