

Recreation featured in CUESTA magazine

The latest edition of Cuesta, the Niagara Escarpment Commission's information magazine, is now available at N.E.C. offices in Georgetown.

The 52-page publication features Escarpment recreation from the underwater adventure available at Fathom Five Provincial Park to the rock-climbing challenges of Rattlesnake Point. Also featured is the up-and-coming sport of orienteering which is superbly suited to the rolling terrain of Ontario's 725-kilometre Escarpment corridor.

A complementary article highlights Beamsville-based Equinox Adventures, an innovative company offering adventure tour packages and certification in several outdoor recreational pursuits.

Just in time for bicentennial celebrations, Cuesta details the events of October 13, 1812 when invading American troops clashed with British forces commanded by General

Isaac Brock in the pivotal battle of Queenston Heights.

Other articles rounding out this edition include a profile on Escarpment artist, Tom Thomson who offered Ontarians a better understanding of their wilderness areas; an interview with Margaret Reed, the diminutive 'witch' of Cave Springs; and pertinent information on Chudleigh's Apple Farm—a year-round, pick-your-own, family operation situated in Milton.

Park Lincoln Mercury win awards

Ford of Canada Zone Sales Manager, Jeff Morton presents Paul Macdonald and Walt Dixon of Park Lincoln Mercury with Ford's highest recognition, "The Distinguished Achievement Award" as well as the Truck Leadership Award, for their contribution in making Ford trucks the number one selling truck in Halton Hills.
