

$9,000 fine is levied for environmental offences

An Acton area liquid waste company has been fined $9,000 after pleading guilty to 12 offences under the Environmental Protection Act.

Robert Noble, of Robert Noble Ltd., A-1 Sanitation and Pumping, RR 1, pleaded guilty Thursday (June 7) in provincial offences court at Milton to using facilities for the storage of waste not in accordance with terms in a provisional certificate of approval between May of 1982 and September of last year. For that the company was fined $3,000.

Noble also pleaded guilty to two counts of failing to forward completed liquid industrial waste forms and was fined $750 for each charge.

He also pleaded guilty to nine counts of knowingly giving false information on forms for the transfer of waste during August and September of last year. There was a $500 fine for each count.

The ministry of the environment withdrew 13 additional charges against Noble and one against his company.

Farm tours for city kids

Five local farmers will be conducting tours of their farms for Metro Toronto school children through the Ontario Vacation Farm Association in an attempt to increase agricultural awareness among the urban population.

"It might be the only opportunity they get to see a farm," said Linda Baumgartner, coordinator of the tours. "Their agricultural awareness is almost non-existent, yet agriculture is an extremely vital part of our Canadian economy and culture."

The tours will be conducted throughout the months of May and June and for six weeks beginning the end of September and ending in October. For $2 each a group of children, (not less than 20 and not more than 35), will be learning about the operation of various dairy, trout, sheep, and beef feedlot farms.

In addition to the Monteith farm, the Falgarbrook farm, the Featherstone Brothers, and Country Lane Orchards in Halton Region, farms in Wellington county, Peel Region, Simcoe County, Durham Region and York Region will be offering their farms for a two hour tour.

Hosting farmers will get $1.50 of the $2 fee for allowing the children to tour their farms.

Some tours have the children close their eyes and be quiet for three minutes listening to the sounds of the farm and using their other senses to get a feel for their surroundings.

While the program is a new one in Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan have been conducting farm tours for urban school children for six years.
