Beavers enjoy weekend

by Leo Postlethwaite
North Halton District Beaver colonies held their annual camp this past weekend and it went off with a bang, as in thunder on Saturday night and Sunday morning. Saturday though the camp went very well with such activities as a sack race, parachute making and homemade hats which had to be worn to every meal by both parents and boys.

Camp chief for the weekend was Sue Walton with her assistants Ron Fuller, Brian Ostachuk, Quarter master; Brent and Craig Ostachuk, Brian Collier and Aiden Siddeh, cooks and Leo Postlethwaite camp-fire chief.

Also goodbye to Sue Walton who is leaving us as ADC of Beavers. We'll miss you.

Andreas Thiel's piano improvisation at a Guelph restaurant are being lauded by diners. The young Acton pianist, fresh from a first prize at the Guelph Spring Festival is playing four nights a week during the summer.

Free park use Aug. 6

To celebrate Ontario's Bicentennial there will be no day-use admission charge at Ontario's provincial parks on Monday, August 6, 1984—the Civic Holiday—Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope announced recently. And many parks will have more to offer that day—Bicentennial events ranging from public picnics to historical demonstrations and pageants.
