The 4-H Garden Club achievement night was held Aug. 15 at Arthur at the Sunset Lodge. Four groups took part. They were from Arthur, Damascus, Greenbush and Rockwood. Shirley Fletcher from this area took the project with Rockwood club. There was a display set up from each club, consisting of vegetable displays, flower arrangements and home improvement projects. A film was shown on U.S. Agriculture in 1975. The girls judged cucumbers and potatoes, and the exhibits were commented on by Oscar Meier, agriculture representative. Sharon Leslie of the Rockwood club got advanced honors for completing 18 clubs, and was presented with a silver pie server. A five-year leadership certificate was given to Betty Allan, also of Rockwood. Each club had a tray of dips made from vegetables, and everyone had a chance to sample them. Mr. and Mrs. George Fletcher, Shirley and Robert, spent a day at Warton visiting friends and touring around. Shirley Fletcher visited a few days at Acton with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parent. Their niece Tammy McDonald of Cornwall was visiting there at the same time.

Obituary
William Major

An avid ploughing match fan and competitor, William Major of RR 1 Guelph died at Guelph General Hospital August 16 at age 87. Mr. Major was born to Frank and Isabelle (nee Weatherston) Major, on August 16, 1896 in Eramosa Township (Lot 12, Concession 5). After attending SS.7 and S.S.10 schools Mr. Major farmed, with a special interest in Leicester sheep. He married Margaret Fixter in Puslinch township, September 20, 1922, and she survives him. Left to mourn are sons Stuart of Guelph and George of Fergus and daughters Jean Jackson and Margaret Parkinson. Also surviving Mr. Major are 14 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. Mr. Major was predeceased by sisters Margaret McEachern and Sarah Paddock. Funeral services were conducted by Reverend Rees at the Shoemaker Funeral home and interment was at the Rockwood Cemetery. Pallbearers were grandsons Peter Parkinson, Randy Parkinson, Raymond Major, Frank Major, Earl Jackson and Irwin Jackson. Honorary pallbearers were Murray Stewart and Garfield Tarzwell. Flower bearers were grandsons Terry Parkinson, Francis Parkinson and great grandson Jeff Ferrier.

When the well runs dry

by M.E. BARKMAN
 Why is it that I can find innumerable uses for water when my husband tells me he is turning the water off to fix the taps? The old sayings are always true and this one, "You never miss the water until the well runs dry," is most applicable. I suppose one should take more precautions and fill a few more utensils in the event of an emergency. But human frailty and optimism that the water will soon be flowing make us forget to be prepared. Anyway the new potatoes don't need peeling for a while, the beans can wait to be washed but I would like to clean my teeth!
