Town supports freeze

Halton Hills Council passed a motion at last week's meeting to support a resolution for a nuclear freeze.

It called for the Town of Halton Hills to endorse the Joint Declaration of Six Nations which included a proposal for a mutual and verifiable freeze on the production, testing, and development of nuclear weapons and their delivery systems by the nuclear weapon states.

The Declaration is a four-continent peace initiative adopted in May by the governments of Sweden, Greece, India, Mexico, Tanzania, and Argentina. The Toronto City Council, July 16, endorsed the proposal after a letter was written to Mayor Art Eggleton by Jim Stark, an antinuclear activist and president of Ottawa-based Operation Dismantle, asking for the Council's support.

After the successful Toronto vote, Stark wrote a letter to the town of Halton Hills to gain its support.

Councillor Pam Sheldon said in a telephone interview that she was pleased the resolution passed. She said when you are a mother thinking in terms of a legacy you want to leave your children, any step towards peace is worthwhile.

Councillor Ross Knechtel also supported it because he said he would like to see all the superpowers cut down on their nuclear weapons. It is essential to humanity, he added.

As well as supporting a proposal for the mutual and verifiable freeze, the Halton Hills resolution requested the federal government and all countries represented by embassies in Ottawa endorse the Declaration.

Two years ago, a referendum on global disarmament was held during the municipal elections. Residents voted two to one in favor "of global nuclear disarmament and directing your government to support this goal to the extent of their power."

Approve crafts shop

Catherine West will be allowed to operate a craft shop containing hand made place-mats, tablecloths and draperies from her house at 498 Guelph St., Norval.

Halton Hills Committee of Adjustment approved the application with the condition that the use be limited only to the one requested. The approval will last only as long as Mrs. West owns the property.
