Traditional wedding for Juanita and Bob Allsop

A traditional, double ring, candlelight wedding at Trinity United Church July 21 saw Violet Juanita Andrews of Acton become the bride of Robert William Allsop of Rockwood.

Employed at the motor vehicle office in Georgetown, Juanita is the daughter of Sandra and Elmer Andrews of Elmore Dr. Bob is the son of Frank and Mollie Allsop of Alma St. and works at MacDonald Electric in Guelph.

For her late afternoon wedding, conducted by Rev. Gerald Rennie with organist Mrs. Denny providing the musical setting, Juanita wore a traditional white gown with a cathedral train. She wore a cathedral veil with finger veil and a pearl and lace tiara. The gown was covered in crystal and pearl beads.

Juanita also wore a crystal necklace that was a gift from her grandmother and carried pink and dusty rose flowers with a cascade of roses.

Maid of honor Judy Pink, a friend of the bride, and bridesmaids Corinne Andrews, her sister, Shelley Allsop, the groom's sister, and Gail Morgan, a cousin, all wore Victorian-style gowns, with Judy's in dusty rose and the others' pale pink.

Flower girl Bonnie-Lou Morgan, the bride's god-daughter, was similarly attired. Best man was Brad Billings of Eden Mills and ushers were Lawrie Smith and Mike McGarr of Guelph and Glenn Murray of Orangeville. Trevor Dawe served as ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds were driven to their reception at Rockmosa Community Centre in a 1964 Chevrolet convertible provided by Bob Garrett.

Some 160 guests enjoyed the dinner-dance reception emceed by a family friend, Cyril Bishop, and were treated to pieces of a wedding cake prepared by the groom's mother, Mollie Allsop, and friend Dorothy Roach. The bride's uncle, James Bungay, offered the traditional toast to the new bride.

Another highlight of the reception was a fountain of pink punch which everyone appreciated.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allsop of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. James Bungay and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Harding of Corner Brook, Newfoundland, Irene Bonnell of St. John's, Newfoundland, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Finn of Hull, Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robinson of Sault Ste. Marie and grandmother Gwen Dawe of Acton.

MR. AND MRS. BOB ALLSOP

The newlyweds returned Aug. 6 from their honeymoon in Hope Bay. They're making their home at 128 Church St. East.

Special events for the couple prior to the wedding included three miscellaneous showers for Juanita, hosted by Corinne Andrews and Gail Morgan, by Judy and Faye Pink, and by Shelley and Terry Dadd, and a kitchen and pantry shower hosted by Lenora Vicery. The groom's friends threw a stag for him and campers gathered at Pike Lake Golf Course for a party.

In 1980, less than half of the people in the Third World had clean drinking water. In some countries water can only be found deep beneath the earth's surface. For $17.-012 USC Canada is supplying clean water to 15 villages in Semongkong, Lesotho. The USC is at 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa, K1P 5B1.
