

Lots of entertainment for the kids this year

Fall fairs always offer lots of entertainment for kids, and this year Georgetown is no exception.

"The Fabulous Fun Tent" organized by fair members, Barb Squire and Linda Bonneau is a unique attraction designed to cater to children 12 years and under.

The tent was named by Heather-Anne Kitchburn in a "Name That Tent Contest" earlier this year. In it are five different games which are played by purchasing tickets at the entrance. The cost of the tickets will be 25 cents each and entitle the player to one game per ticket. Winners of the games will be awarded a prize of their choice.

Barb and Linda have enlisted the help of members of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets and the Lorne Scots Army Cadets to man the ticket booth and the games.

Ronald McDonald, the famous clown of the restaurant chain, will be on at 2.30 Sunday afternoon at the tent to perform the now famous Ronald McDonald show. Rumour has it that Ronald McDonald will also be presenting prizes in the Pet Show.

The Pet Show, under the direction of Gilbert Preston, is always a crowd pleaser. Kids, 14 and under, can bring their pets and compete for such titles as: "the fluffiest cat," "the best dressed dog," and of course, "the most unusual pet," whatever it may be.

Better pick up a prize list and make your entries early.

Old McDonald's Farm, one of the most popular attractions of Georgetown Fair will return, under the direction of "Mrs. Old McDonald" herself, Mona Milne. Mona is bringing back the exotic animals of last year as well as the regular farm animals. Of course, Wilbur the Purple Pig, Georgetown Fair's famous mascot will be on hand in all his purple splendor. Wilbur pins are currently on sale around town, and will be available at the fair office during the fair.

No fair is complete without a good midway, and Georgetown has the best on its way to delight the young and the "young at heart."

Everything from the kiddie rides to the thrilling rides of the daredevils as well as the games of chance will be on hand to entertain one and all.

Remember, children 12 years and under get in free.
