FIESTA Wayfarer

An unique holiday adventure is in store for 60 Canadians each week as they board the MS Vacationer in Antigua for a voyage of discovery through the Lesser Antilles. Sailing late Saturday night they'll have ample time ashore in Isles des Saintes, Guadeloupe, Anguilla, St. Kitts, St. Maarten, St. Barts, St. Eustasius and Montserrat. Most of the time at sea is scheduled for the calm of evening, leaving the days free for island exploring and enjoying the untouched beaches of these charming islands.

Fiesta Wayfarer Holidays are sharing the 255 foot vessel with a U.S. Travel organization and thus have exclusive access to half the staterooms. Prices are $1299 for January and late April sailings and $1499 for the rest of the season. This price includes roundtrip air via Air Canada from Toronto to Antigua, the cruise and lots of fun aboard and on shore. One week passengers even get an island tour of Antigua upon their return to port. Passengers with a two week vacation may opt for a second week at the Jolly Beach Hotel in Antigua. This is really a cruise for people who have perhaps never considered a cruise vacation expecting it to be too formal or too expensive. On the Vacationer you can carry your cruise wardrobe in a shopping bag if that's your whim. It's casual, comfortable and definitely a major sightseeing adventure. Camera enthusiasts will love it. Fiesta is now accepting reservations for the whole winter season beginning with the December 22 sailing. Roos Travel has the colourful Fiesta Wayfarer brochure with all the details. Call 877-0138.
