

Ballinafad

Norm Elson appreciated

by Winifred Smith

I heard of a nice gesture recently that one of our residents does. He visits the senior shut-ins and others who enjoy reading, with books from the Georgetown library, and also returns them. If Ballinafad gave an award for the "Citizen of the Year," Norman Elson, should be among the top contenders. His efforts are very much appreciated.

We extend sympathy to the many relatives who live in the community who mourn the loss of Aileen Cole, of Georgetown, whose death occurred last week.

Mrs. Madill is progressing favorably at her home after recent eye surgery.

Ghosts, goblins, witches, and other characters were out ahead of Hallowe'en on Saturday night at the Community Centre when they attended the dance. There were prizes given for the different categories. Lunch was served and a good time was had by all.

Sunday was another nice day and many enjoyed the service of worship at the United Church. The Sunday School little ones, with the help of their teachers, put on a little skit before going down to classes. During the service, two new members were welcomed. They were Mr. and Mrs. Jan VandeJ Grient, who moved into the neighborhood from the Ottawa District.

Other visitors, renewing acquaintances were Mr. and Mrs. George Gibson, from B.C. and his mother, Margaret Davidson from Georgetown. George spent his boyhood days here and was brought up on a farm where he lived with his parents and family.

Possible dump

The possibility of Peel Region selecting a site north of Norval, above the railroad tracks on Winston Churchill Boulevard has Jim France angry, and he came to Halton Hills council Monday night, and told them so.

He urged council to set up a committee to speak for the taxpayers in the area and to fight against any proposed dump.
