

Abandoned Cars a No-No OPP Warns

North Halton OPP have warned motorists against abandoning cars on the side of the highways after they break down. The vehicles interfere with snow removal operations and if they are left on any part of the travelled portion of the highway the owner can be held criminally and civilly responsible in some cases.

North Halton OPP have come across several cars which have broken down and been left by the drivers on the roads in their territory. They are having the cars towed away at the owner's expense. They warn drivers to have their cars towed away immediately after a breakdown on the highway.

LYSISTRATA GEORGETOWN'S DRAMA FESTIVAL HOPEFUL

Jean Wakefield plays the part of Lysistrata and Bob Thornley the Magistrate. There are 30 in all in the cast, which includes some of the students from the Acton and Georgetown high schools.

Lysistrata is directed by Ron Hill, produced by Harry Haylock. The costumes were designed by John Summer and are being made by Eileen Smith. The costumes are quite exciting and should bring forth a good deal of comment — they will be something to see as well as the play. P. Bert Smith is in charge of set construction and Terry Snowden is assisting. Lighting is by John Langtree and sound by John Boesveld. Makeup will be done by Carol Watson, Edna Ferguson and Anne Watt. Stage Manager and choreographer is Leah Mogg and the prompter is Pat Joyner.

The cast has been working hard to put on a good play for the theatre lovers in Georgetown, and it is hoped that there will be good crowds for this Festival Entry play. It will be held at Wrigglesworth auditorium, Guelph Street, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 15, 16 and 17 at 8.30 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75c for students.

This play is not recommended for children.

Tickets may be obtained at the door. All holders of members and patrons cards entitle them to attend all the plays in the season.

Want to shake the January doldrums? A good three evenings of adult entertainment will be afforded those who attend the Georgetown Little Theatre's Central Ontario Festival League entry — "Lysistrata"—written by Aristophanes back in the good old Grecian times.

The setting is Athens at the time when all the men did well, almost all they did was go off to wars. The women got tired of this, and decided that they would withhold their men's "pleasures" until they stopped fighting. Things begin to happen when some of the women don't wish to stick to their bargain with the other gals, and the men try everything they can think of to entice their women into breaking their vow to abstain.

UMBRELLA IDEA GETS $5.00 CASH

A cheque for $5 was the reward Lori-Ann Sherck, 58 Shelley Street, received for an idea submitted to Popular Science and Mechanics Magazine, last week.

Lori-Ann suggested handles on umbrellas be on the side so the holder would be completely covered, and submitted her idea to the "Why Don't They Invent" section of the magazine, which appears in every issue.

Lori-Ann daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Sherck, is 13 years old and a Grade 8 student at Holy Cross School.

— Don't miss the Little Theatre play this weekend.

Motor Fails, Kids Holiday

A burned out furnace stoker motor meant an unscheduled holiday for the pupils at Chapel Street junior school Friday.

The children were sent home for the day at about 10:30 a.m. when it became obvious the heating system would not quickly be repaired.

The stoker motor called it quits after 20 years of faithful service at 6.30 Friday morning. The temperature inside the school dropped to 47 degrees.
