WOOD-BUCKWELL WEDDING

Evening Marriage Follows Groom's Graduation From Police College

MR. AND MRS. GRAHAME WOOD

The groom's graduation day from Metro Toronto Police College was chosen as their wedding day by Jennifer Gail Buckwell, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Buckwell, Mississauga and Mr. L. Buckwell, New Smyrna Beach, Florida, and Barry Grahame Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Wood, 28 Baird-tow Crescent.

The candlelight service in All Saints Anglican Church, the Kingsway, was conducted by the Rev. Wilkinson with bouquets of white flowers on the altar. Twelve choir boys preceded the wedding party down the aisle. It was a double ring ceremony in which the bride's father gave her in marriage.

The bride wore a wedding gown of diamond-embossed heavy brocade with cathedral train flowing from the shoulders. A brocade pillbox held her bouffant illusion veil and she carried a cascade of yellow, sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Elizabeth Buckwell, as maid of honour for her sister, was dressed in a floor length gown of moss green Italian silk moire and carried a cascade of autumn flowers. Wearing identically styled gowns in mint green were another sister Sharon and Christine Haley, the groom's aunt. They carried posies of autumn flowers. Attendants wore headresses of fresh autumn flowers and ribbon, and wore gold earrings, gifts of the bride.

The groom's uncle, Roland Haley, Brampton was groomsmen. Ushers were Roger Schofield and Barry Wilman, Detroit, Michigan.

At a reception at the Mayfair Inn the bride's mother wore a full length silver brocade gown, with jewelled trim at neckline and hem, a blue feathered head-dress and carried matching orchids. The groom's mother, who carried green orchids, wore a full length gown of gold antroni hand embroidered at neck, hem and cuffs, with pearls and beads, and matching headress. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. L. Haley, visiting from Bradford, Yorkshire, had embroidered the gown and also made the attendants' dresses.

Don't send — TAKE your boy to the arena — and stay to see him play. Even if it's the boy next door, or the lad down the street.

For a honeymoon trip to Lake Placid and the northeastern states the bride wore a matching dress and coat of lime green silk brocade, black accessories and a white gardenia corsage, and a cultured pearl necklace, a gift from her brother who is serving with the U.S. Navy in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood are living at Markland Woods, Etobicoke. He is now a member of the Metro Toronto police force and his bride, a graduate of Cape Kennedy business college, is employed as a key punch operator with Ontario Hydro.

Attending the morning graduation ceremony were his parents, his grandmother, Mrs. Lily Haley, an aunt from Texas, Mrs. G. Clarke and his mother's youngest brother, Roland Haley, who was best man at the wedding.

Mrs. Shirley Chappell, Toronto, and Mrs. Marg Oliphant, Weston, had miscellaneous showers for the bride, and Mrs. Christine Haley, Brampton, a kitchen shower. Mrs. Buckwell had a trousseau tea for her daughter.

Mrs. Marg Oliphant, Mrs. L. Haley and Mrs. Harrison Wood poured tea, and tea room assistants were Elizabeth and Sharon Buckwell, Margaret Brown and Kathleen Reihl. After the wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. Wood entertained the wedding party at the Sherway Inn.
