

Pancake Lunch is Men's Effort, Serve Over 125

The Couples Club of Norval United Church entertained the congregation following the church service on Sunday, February 15th to a 'Pancake Lunch' with the men cooking and serving the pancakes to a full church and the men did an excellent job.

A very enjoyable social time was reported by both young and old alike. Everyone was too busy to count heads but over 125 ate all the pancakes they could with plenty of butter and maple syrup, coffee and chocolate milk. For those who still had room there was plenty of cookies and apples by the bushel. Needless to say no one went home hungry.

Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Davidson of Brampton entertained during the lunch with a sing-song which was enjoyed by all.

The Norval L.A. for Guides, Brownies and Rangers held a successful Valentine Tea and bake sale on Saturday, February 14th in Norval United Church. Mrs. D. Hetherington opened the Tea and Bake Sale with Mrs. R. W. Ridley in charge of the bake table and Mrs. Peter Pomeroy and Mrs. K. Ewen in charge of the Tea Room, and the Rangers served the tea. A draw held for a hand made quilt donated by Mrs. Marg Helson was won by Mrs. T. Ewart.

The Ladies Guild of St. Paul's Anglican Church met at the home of Mrs. Ormie Carter on Monday evening, Feb. 14th, with Mrs. Carter presiding. Plans were made for a children's film show to be held in the parish hall on Saturday, March 21st, and for a demonstration and dessert to be held on May 25th.

Final arrangements were made for the installation of the new church doors donated by the Guild to be installed early in the spring.

A donation was made to the choir for new music.

The next meeting will be a Tupperware party with proceeds for the Guild to be held at the home of Mrs. June Lindley.

THE GEORGETOWN HERALD THURSDAY, FEB. 19th, 1970 PAGE 2

Unit Two of Norval United Church U.C.W. met at the home of the new president Mrs. Paul Johnson on Wednesday evening, February 11th.

Mrs. John Thurlbeck gave an inspiring devotional on 'scatter the seeds of courtesy and kindness.' A Health Nurse was to be the guest speaker but an emergency prevented her from attending. Mrs. R. W. E. died very capably filled in with slides on Japan, which were greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

Mrs. Lloyd Laidlaw and Mrs. Lloyd Grant assisted the hostess with lunch and a social time was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Thurlbeck.

Plans for Norval Public School's Winter Carnival Fun Night now include an Ice Sculpture contest and a marshmallow roast to the ski-doo and pony rides, skating and refreshments. The pupils hope that Friday night, February 20 will be a good night weather wise, and that the community will turn out to support them. Proceeds are for their annual bus trip.

Mrs. Ed McLean

Police Will Get Assessment Space

Upstairs office space in the Woodrex building, vacated when Georgetown's assessment department was absorbed into a Peel-Halton region, will now be rented for extra police department accommodation.

Council decided on the move Monday. It had been recommended by the police commission.

CONSISTENT

Mayor Emmeson said that to be consistent, he could not fully approve, as he has already given approval to the Stevenson & Kellogg report which recommends sweeping changes in the town's administrative set up. The report said the office should be used for the building and plumbing inspectors.

Musings On A Non-Report

Rev. Al VandonPol, Christian Reformed Church (THE KEILLER MACKAY REPORT)

Many people interested in education know that this report is at present quite a hot potato. And this is not surprising, for if it is implemented, it will give a radically different basis to the "philosophy of education" underlying our Public School system. The system will be "non-religious", for "religious faith is a personal commitment which can best be made in the home and in the place of worship." What else does this mean than: Teachers and students if you don't leave your faith behind in church, at least you must leave it at home!

Not that religion will be banned from the schools. No, there will be a study of religion in a "wholly objective manner," which in Senior High will involve the systematic and detailed (sic!) study of various religions of the world with the intention of providing knowledge and insight into the basis of religious doctrines, creeds, liturgical practices and into the roots from which they have sprung.

It is the teacher of history who will be privileged to teach such a course, don't forget "in a wholly objective manner." What about it, if the poor man happens to be a convinced and dedicated Christian — not only on Sunday and at home before and after school but 7 days and nights of any week? — and therefore a man, who cannot but seek to show in his history courses f.i. that man's doings have only abiding and redeeming meaning, when they are the wool complementing God's warp on the loom of history? And if he cannot keep his Christian heart out of the teaching of the subject "religion?" Then he stands condemned as a biased bigot under this system.

But isn't the system itself biased? In banning religious faith as a personal commitment to the home and the place of worship. We don't need and we don't want this commitment in our schools, in our teaching. We demand the commitment to the non-committal attitude! How come? Well, at one time our society was "Christian"; the deepest difference was between "Roman Catholics" and "Protestants". But now our school system, our government and the boards and committees refuse to recognize the fact that the gap — or even contrast — in educational philosophy between a "non-religious" Public School and the schooling of children of Christian parents is much greater than between former Roman Catholic and (Christian) Public Schools.

The inconsistency of the 'Mackay' philosophy shows in the 'Moral Development' section. There the committee considers "means by which character, ethics, social attitudes and moral values and principles might best be instilled in the young." How is "instilling" these kind of things different from "indoctrinating" them with the same?

Why not honestly face it: Today we live in a pluralistic society. Many people may think their faith to be irrelevant to education and life in society. But many others do. Don't they have equal rights?

And besides, would honest, colourful competition in education be MORE, or LESS beneficial than the grey mammoth of a monolithic system?

Isn't it almost the same as asking whether true democracy and private enterprise should not be preferred over total state-economy and a one-party system?

GLEN WILLIAMS

Family Celebrates with Mother, 92nd Birthday

One of the Glen's senior citizens, Mrs. S. Klingbeil of Confederation St. celebrated her 92nd birthday on Monday, Feb. 16. The family gathered at her home on Sunday. Those coming a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klingbeil, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Taylor and family (Ora) Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taylor and family (Olive), Mrs. Myrtle Barfoot and family, all from Windermere; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Franks and family (Violet), Detroit and Mrs. Marjorie Dennis of Unity, Sask. who is visiting here in the East with her mother for a while. Mrs. Klingbeil did have a stay in hospital recently but is able to be home now and enjoyed having her family around her to help celebrate on Sunday. We extend our congratulations, as do her many friends in the village.

The congregation of the United Church enjoyed a pancake breakfast last Sunday morning after church service.

Our best wishes go to Mrs. Mabel Cain, Beaver St., who is a patient in Georgetown Hospital.

The bus trip to Toronto on Saturday sponsored by St. Alban's Ladies Guild was again enjoyed by all the ladies. A good many shopped and some went to the theatre when they had the opportunity.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. Earl Emond, Beaver St. who has been a patient in hospital in Guelph.

Their many friends extend sincere sympathy to the Inglis family in the death of Anne this week in Georgetown hospital. She leaves her son, Gordon and sisters, Margaret (Mrs. W. R. Reid) of 22 Sideroad, Jean (Mrs. Wm. Brennan) of Rockwood; brothers, Alex of 22 Sideroad; Bill of the Glen; George and John of Georgetown. Her brother Jim, died a few years ago. To any new residents in the community the Alf Spence farm on the ninth line was the Inglis farm for many years.

Ladies report a nice afternoon of euchre at the home of Mrs. R. Reynolds of 22 Sideroad last Thursday. Winners were high Mrs. G. Ironside and Mrs. Herb Preston Sr. Low, Mrs. W. Everson and Mrs. G. Harley. These are sponsored by St. Alban's Ladies' Guild and are held every Thursday afternoon.

Get well wishes are sent to Mrs. Fred Jackson's mother, Mrs. Scott who is a patient in Georgetown hospital.

A communicants class has begun in the United Church and meets every Thursday evening.

IGA grocery store advertisement listing various products like toilet tissue, macaroni, biscuits, and smoked picnic shoulder with prices.

IGA advertisement featuring a cartoon character and promoting 'helps you cut food costs!' with various food items and prices.

IGA advertisement listing frozen foods like french fries, waffles, and chicken & chips, along with fresh produce like grapefruit and oranges.

Come to Church

Advertisement listing various churches and their services, including St. Paul's Baptist Church, Maple Avenue Baptist Church, Christian Reformed Church, St. John's United Church, and Knox Presbyterian Church.

IGA LUCKY SHOPPER advertisement for Marg. Bingham 8 McGillvray Cr. $19.31, featuring pre-cleaned ducks, Carnation Milk, Royal Gold Butter, and IGA Sliced Bread.

RENAULT advertisement for the Renault 8, highlighting features like safety, performance, and economy, with a price of $1868.

Advertisement for Edward E. Malison, Public Accountant, announcing a change of address to 91 Main Street South.

Advertisement for Kulfam Automotive Ltd., offering one stop service for cars and trucks, including engine rebuilds and brake services.