

Cancer Volunteers Important Function

Miss Doris Brown, head of both the in-patients and out-patient services at Princess Margaret Hospital, spoke of her experiences with patients and of the function of her department when she addressed the 125 guests present at a Spring Get-Together hosted by the Georgetown Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society, Thursday, in St. John's United Church.

Miss Brown also stressed the importance of the cancer volunteer in giving assistance to patients at Princess Margaret Hospital, such as slippers and sweaters, etc. And gifts suitable to be given to patients and ideas to keep them occupied were shown by Helen Cummins. There was also a literature table.

Mrs. Mary Gilverston and Mrs. Grace Johnston fielded questions on services to patients during a question and answer period.

SUITABLE GIFTS
A display on the making of bed pads was arranged by Mrs. Ida Sproule, dressing convenor for South Peel Unit, and Aurora Unit displayed examples of articles which could be knit and donated to the Princess Margaret Hospital, such as slippers and sweaters, etc. And gifts suitable to be given to patients and ideas to keep them occupied were shown by Helen Cummins. There was also a literature table.

At the Canadian Cancer Society's "talk-in" Thursday are (clockwise from left) Mrs. Gloria Coats, Acton transportation chairman; Mrs. Sandra Timleck, Georgetown transportation chairman; driver Trevor Williams; Mrs. Jennie Sienko, dressings maker; and Mrs. Nancy Stevens, service to patients chairman, who convened the day.

Scout Guard of Honour At Hagersville Wedding

Rev. Paul Timpany officiated at a double ring ceremony with Rev. Ron Vieselmeyer assisting in Hagersville Baptist Church on March 28, which united in marriage Anne Walinga Varley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walinga, R.R. 2, Georgetown, to Robert Williamson son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart, Kingsway Cres., Toronto.

The bride's father gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a full length gown of white lace over lime green peau-de-soie carrying a bouquet of red sweetheart roses. The matron of honour was Mrs. Carol Walinga sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Eke and Marg Walinga sisters of the bride. All three wore short gowns of light blue peau-de-soie with an empire waist, each carried bouquets of orange and yellow carnations. Laraine Varley daughter of the bride was flower girl, she wore a dress of white lace over light blue peau-de-soie, and carried a basket of orange and yellow carnations and white daisies.

Ronald Varley son of the bride, was ring bearer, carrying a cushion of gold brocade. The best man was Rev. Campbell of Kingston. The ushers were John Stewart of Clarkson, brother of the groom and Hank Walinga brother of the bride. The reception was held at the Oddfellows Hall at Hagersville.

For a honeymoon to Kingston and area the bride wore a two piece dress of coral plaid with brown accessories and white orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson had a surprise guard of honour when the Boy Scouts saluted them as they left the church.

Mr. Williamson works for the Department of Corrections at the Sprucedale School for Boys in Hagersville. He is also Scout Master for the Hagersville Boy Scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson will reside at R.R. 5, Hagersville.

Raceway By-Law in Offing for Esqueusing

Esqueusing council have agreed to consult with the township solicitor about drawing up by-laws to regulate drag strips and race tracks in the township, as the result of a heated discussion with township residents Peter Bowman, Ellis Taylor and Clarence Coles at April 28th's council meeting.

The trio, all of whom own property near the proposed Golden Horseshoe Dragway asked council to impose limitations on the operation of the dragway for their protection.

Mr. Bowman, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Coles are three of eight plaintiffs who will claim noise nuisance and devaluation of property at a trial in Milton, May 11th.

IN NO POSITION
"You told me last week you were going to get some by-laws," Mr. Bowman reminded council.

Reeve George Currie said he didn't think council were in any position to do anything while the matter was still in the courts.

"If we draw up a by-law and you win the case, what good is the by-law?" the reeve asked Mr. Bowman.

"What about somebody else trying to start one up in the future?" Mr. Bowman shot back.

"We're hoping for protection from our council," Mr. Coles added.

ALWAYS $0-50
When Mr. Bowman asked about council's plans to erect a fence between his property and the dragway, Reeve Currie said the erection of a line fence was always on a $0-50 cost sharing basis between property owners.

The suggestion provoked Mr. Bowman.

"Maybe you'd like to come up and spend a week-end and guard my property, when it starts," he shouted at the reeve.

Deputy-reeve Tom Hill said he thought council should consult their solicitor about the by-law, but added, "As far as fencing, I don't think we can do anything about it."
